ARMIES BEGIN TO MARCH ON TURKEY

Ottoman Forces of the Defensive and Outposts Are Withdrawing.

MUSTAPHA PASHA CAPTURED

Irregular Turkish Force of 2,000 Ambushed and Cut to Pieces—Bombardment of Varna Begun. Reports Denied.

London, Oct. 19.—Along the mountain front of 200 miles from Kirk-Kilisep in the east, to Uskup in the west, the advance of the allied armies into Turkey continues. The Turkish army appears to be acting on the defensive. Its outposts are slowly withdrawing and are attempting only to screen the way for mobilization, while the main forces are marching toward the frontier.

Only small engagements, which give no idea of the mettle of the combatants, have occurred thus far. The censorship has been so complete and effective that Europe has few details except that the largest armies in the field on the continent since 1870 are preparing for a death struggle. Adrianople and Uskup are being used as the strategic points for the first great battle. Adrianople is defended by modern fortresses, with 300 of the most modern guns. It is the main gateway to Turkey and should give the invaders a long siege. The town of Mustapha Pasha, 17 miles to the north, already has fallen into the hands of the Bulgarians and the meagre announcements of the event indicate without serious resistance.

The approach to Uskup is more difficult. The Servian and Bulgarian armies are likely to follow two roads, one from Koestenil in Bulgaria, through Palanka pass, which is strongly fortified on the Turkish side, the other along the main line of the road from Servia.

The taking of Mustapha Pasha was the important event reported today. The Turkish fleet, the size of which has been kept secret, but probably a few small craft, was engaged in bombarding the Bulgarian port of Varna this afternoon.

Reports received by way of Vienna say an irregular Turkish force of 2,000 men was ambushed and cut to pieces by the Montenegrins in an attempt to re-capture Berana.

The whereabouts of the Greek fleet is unknown, but one report has it that the fleet has sailed to find Turkish ships, while the Greek Government has proclaimed a blockade of part of the southern coast of Turkey.

The Montenegrin advance has stopped before Tarnboch, which blocks the way to Scutari. The Greeks have crossed the border by three roads at the eastern end of the border. Turkey is apparently concentrating her attention on her Slav foes in the north. It is believed she will detach only a comparatively small force to deal with the Greeks in the beginning.

The Turkish legations deny indignantly all reports that the Turkish army doctors are preparing to scatter disease germs.

The denials are made in a reply to a dispatch received yesterday in London and vouched for by the Greek minister, that Turkish doctors had gone to Janina in the south of Albania, near the Grecian frontier carrying with ment at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Varna Bombarded by Turks.

Constantinople, Oct. 19.—The Turkish fleet arrived off Varna at 6 o'clock this morning and began a bombardment at 2 o'clock thcis afternoon.

Varna is the principal Bulgarian port of the Black Sea between Kustendje and the Bosphorus. Notification has already been received at the various embassies that a blockade of Varna and Burghas, to the south, has been begun by Turkey.

Varna is memorable for the battle fought there in 1444, in which the Turkish Sultan, Amurath II, overwhelmed the Hungarian army, commanded by King Ladisks. It has a population of about 35,000.

Bulgarians Begin Operations.

Sofia, Oct. 19.—In taking the town of Mustapha Pasha, the Bulgarians commenced operations at two points simultaneously. Gen. Ivanoff's army, with Harmanli as a center, attacked the right wing of the Turkish forces and occupied the village of Kourkale which dominates Mustapha Pasha. The Turks were forced to fall back into

NEGRO CONFESSES TO MURDER

George Bishop, of Wilmington, N. C., Tells Brooklyn Police He Killed Mrs. Margaretta Bell—Robbery Object of Murder.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Oct. 19.—Within 12 hours after the death of Mrs. Margaretta Bell, a widow of 78 years, who was murderously attacked in her home in Brooklyn last night, the police had made an arrest and secured a confession. The prisoner is George Bishop, 23 years old, a negro chauffeur. The object of the murder was unquestionably robbery.

Mrs. Bell died in the Brooklyn Hospital early this morning as a result of her injuries. Mary Hogan, a maid in the house of Mrs. Bell, was also attacked, and she is in the Brooklyn Hospital now suffering from her injuries. She positively identified the prisoner as a man who visited the house and the person who assaulted her.

Bishop admitted to Commissioner Dougherty shortly after his arrest that he had been in the house. That was after Miss Hogan's identification. Later on he made a confession in which he said:

"I attacked both of the women with a hammer. I was somewhat intoxicated at the time and became reckless. I started right in with the hammer when Mrs. Bell refused to loan me the money and the first thing I knew I struck Mrs. Bell on the top of the head. She fell and then the maid came in. I struck her with the hammer in the face. I then made a search of the room, but I did not find anything of value."

For a time it was impossible for the police to get any explanation from Mary Hogan, for it took hours to recover from the shock, but when she finally found voice she declared that her assailant had been George Bishop, the husband of Jean Bishop, a colored girl, who had been working as a maid in Mrs. Bell's house up to the last of July. The police lost no time in following up clues as to the whereabouts of Bishop.

They found that Jean had been married to Bishop about a year ago. She is 17 years old, and she is at present in her home at Wilmington, N. C., whence Bishop also hails.

YALE 6; ARMY 0

Fumbling Kept Elis From Running Up Much Larger Score

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 19.—After two successive years of defeat, Yale regained her football supremacy over West Point in a fiercely fought game here today by a score of 6 to 0. The touchdown came at the opening of the second quarter after the Yale offense had torn through the Army team to the nine-yard line near the close in the first period. After the rest, three Yale rushes brought the touchdown. Philbin failed at the goal.

The Yale team was the superior of the West Point eleven in all departments of the game, but errors prevented the Elis from rolling up double figures. Fullback Flynn, of the Yale team, was a brilliant figure on offensive work, but made three muffs of Cadet punts, each of which gave the ball to West Point. A fourth Yale fumble came on West Point's one-yard line, when a touchdown seemed inevitabel.

Both teams clung largely to the old-fashioned type of football, but West Point was successful in three forward passes and Yale made four completed passes.

Petersburg, Va., Oct. 19.—Mrs. Alexander Donnan, mother of Mrs. William Hodges Mann, wife of Governor Mann, of Virginia, died here this afternoon, aged 75. She had been in feeble health, due to infirmities of age for several weeks. The funeral will be held here tomorrow, with interment in Blandford cemetery.

WILSON SPEAKS IN NEW YORK

Closes Speaking Campaign for Present With Addresses at Carnegie Hall And Brooklyn—Suffragette Interrupts Him

New York, Oct. 19.—Governor Woodrow Wilson made two speeches tonight in New York and Brooklyn, closing his speaking campaign for the present. He will not make another speech, he announced, until Colonel Roosevelt has recovered. Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and her three daughters attended the big meeting at Carnegie Hall.

The Governor arrived here this afternoon from a campaign trip through Delaware, West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania. On the way to New York, he rode for a while with Dr. Henry Van Dyke, the author, and former Governor Higgins, of Rhode Island.

Miss Maude Malone, a suffragette, interrupted the speech of Governor Wilson at the Academy of Music, Brooklyn, and after a scene of confusion in which the Democratic candidate tried to pacify the angry crowd, the police interfered and arrested her on a charge of disturbing the peace.

The Governor was talking about monopoly when Miss Malone, who was conspicuous in interrupting an address by Governor Johnson, of California, here recently, rose from the balcony and shouted: "How about woman suffrage, Governor Wilson? Man has a monopoly of suffrage."

Cries of "Put her out," came from the crowd.

"Do not be rude to the lady," urged the Governor, and the crowd became quiet, while the speaker added: "Women's suffrage, madam, is not a question that is dealt with by the National government at all; I am only here as a representative of a National party."

The woman continued to shout questions about suffrage, and when the Governor could be heard again he said to her: "I hope you will not consider it a discourtesy, if I decline to answer your questions on this occasion. I am sure the lady will not insist."

Miss Malone did not stop, however, and for a few minutes there was a confusion of cries to take the woman from the hall, which finally ended when the police arrested her. Governor Wilson continued his speech, amidst cheers.

AUBURN 27; CLEMSON 6.

Tech. Line Could Not Stop Plunges of Ressijac.

Auburn, Ala., Oct. 9.—Clemson went down in defeat before Auburn today on a muddy field, the final score being 27 to 6. The Clemson line could not stop the plunges of Ressijac, and the end runs of Ressijac and Newell. These two, with Capt. Majors covered the ground for the Orange and Blue. Clemson was unable to score through a fluke. Lewis grabbed a fumbled ball and ran 30 yards for a touch-down. With this exception Clemson was unable to make first downs with any frequency.

V. M. I. SPRINGS SURPRISE.

Takes Virginia Into Camp by Score of 19 to 0.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 19.—Virginia Military Institute surprised the University of Virgina football team with its strength today, and defeated the University 19 to 0. The cadets from Lexington put up a strong offensive game and scored touchdowns in the first, second and fourth quarters, mainly through the use of the forward pass. Capt. Moore and Quarterback Kingman were the principal ground gainers, Moore frequently making long runs.

Fancy prices have recently been paid for prize winning ostrich plumes in South Africa, the highest being $487 a pound, far above the ordinary market value.

ROOSEVELT MUST TAKE REST TODAY

Won't Be Able to Leave Monday if He Overtaxes His Strength

MAY CONFER WITH JOHNSON

The Colonel Issues Statement Outlining His Position on the Proposed Regulation of Monopoly—Condition Normal

Chicago, Oct. 19.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt must rest all day tomorrow in absolute quiet if he is to be able to take an early train for New York Monday morning. This was the decision reached tonight by the surgeons who met in consultation in his rooms after a day during which they assert that the colonel has been overtaxing his strength.

The evening bulletin tonight was distinctly moderate in tone, though the surgeons are emphatic in declaring there is no danger in sight from any source except the patient's own energetic disposition, which will not allow him to keep himself quiet.

Dr. John B. Murphy, chief of the surgeons who are in charge of Colonel Roosevelt's case, declared tonight as he left the colonel's rooms that his patient was going under stricter discipline tomorrow than he has yet experienced during his stay in this hospital.

"The colonel is going to be made to understand that his going to New York Monday depends upon his resting in perfect quiet all day Sunday," said Dr. Murphy. "Our patient needs all his strength to repair the damage done to his body. There has been a tendency on his part to overdo all the time, and it must stop until he is more nearly recovered."

How this will affect a scheduled conference with Governor Johnson, which was to take place tomorrow morning is something that remains to be seen, when the surgeons' ruling is laid before Colonel Roosevelt. Colonel Roosevelt, it is known, has told Governor Johnosn not to sacrifice his seat at the head of the California government to his work in the Progressive campaign and it is known that before the colonel's injury the Governor was headed back toward California, in order not to exceed the legal limit of time of absence outside the borders of the State.

Governor Johnson now insists, it is said, that his place is at the head of the firing line in the place of his temporarily disabled chief, and that the Governorship is a secondary consideration.

Nothing was settled at the conference today between the Governor and the colonel, it is said, and the matter was on tapis for tomorrow, but the surgeons are firm in the embargo against any more business, social or political.

The colonel's clinical records during the last two days have shown a preponderance of slightly sub-normal temperatures, indicating a slight degree of weakness and ready response of temperature to slight influences.

DEFENSE SCORES IN BECKER CASE

Witnesses Testify to Two Points Which Are Considered Very Vital.

ROSENTHAL RAID NOT A FAKE

The Second Point Brought Out Was That "Bald" Jack Rose and "Bridgie" Webber Threatened to Kill Rosenthal

New York, Oct. 19.—Witnesses in the trial of Police Lieutenant Becker testified today to two points which the defense considered vital to its case. These were: First, that the raid on Herman Rosenthal's gambling house on April 17th, was made after evidence against it had been obtained by the police. The State charges that the raid was a "fake."

Second, that "Bald" Jack Rose and "Bridgie" Webber, two of the self-confessed accomplices of Rosenthal's murder, who have turned State's evidence, threatened to kill Rosenthal weeks before he was murdered.

Another witness, Louis Plitt, brother of Becker's so-called press agent, swore that Jack Rose had gone down on his knees in the Tombs and said: "On the grave and on the memory of my dead mother, I say that Becker had nothing to do with this affair."

Other witnesses, a police lieutenant and his wife, testified that they had visited Becker at his home on the night of July 17th, 48 hours after Rosenthal was shot, and that Becker was there from 10:40 until they left at 11:45. Jack Rose has testified that he was with Becker elsewhere during these hours.

Joseph B. Shepard, one time member of Becker's "strong arm squad," testified that he had obtained the evidence upon which Rosenthal's place was raided. He was taken to the establishment two days before the raid, he said, by a "steerer" who met him and two other policemen at the Hotel Cadillac.

The policemen wore citizen's clothes and the "steerer" did not know their identity. They were met at the basement door by a man to whom the "steerer" vuoched for their good intentions, went up stairs and lost $50 playing roufette.

The next day, Shepard said, he met Becker, told him what had been done and, at Becker's instructions, drew up the necessary legal papers preparatory to making a raid. The day after this warrants were issued and that night Rosenthal's place was raided. One of the men who had been at a wheel was arrested, Shepard said, and was identified by Mrs. Rosenthal as her nephew. She asked Becker not to take the youth away, but Becker said he had a warrant for him and then, Shepard testified, Mrs. Rosenthal tried to draw Becker aside, saying that she had something to tell him.

"What did Becker say to her?" asked John F. McIntyre, chief of Becker's half dozen lawyers.

"He said, 'If you have anything to say to me, say it here and now.'"

Shepard was not cross-examined, but District Attorney Whitman said he would be, when court convenes Monday. Justice Goff held only a forenoon session, as today is registration day here and the jury wanted to register during the afternoon.

Robert A. Smith, a contractor, who testified that Webber and Rose told him they wanted Rosenthal out of the way, was assailed by the State on cross-examination. Smith had testified on direct examination that Rose told him on June 28th that if Jack Zelig had not got in trouble he (Rose) would have had Rosenthal killed a month before. Webber's alleged declaration, made to Smith, was that "he could cut Rosenthal's throat and lie down and sleep all night with him."

So far as the identification of evidence is concerned, the case is considerably more than half finished. Mr. McIntyre said this afternoon he expected to introduce about 20 more witnesses and probably would rest his case Wednesday or Thursday. He said he would ask for an entire day to sum up.

MEXICAN SITUATION

American Warships Steaming to East Coast—Fight Out of City

Washington, Oct. 19.—With two American warships steaming for ports on the east coast of Mexico to protect American interests, if need be, State Department officia's now are concerned over the developments of the latest revolt led by Felix Diaz, centered at Vera Cruz. Reports that the uprising was backed by members of the Cientifico party in the interest of Porfiro Diaz, ousted from the Presidency by Madero, were received without comment.

The cruiser Des Moines, ordered to Vera Cruz, should arrive there tomorrow. The Tacoma has been ordered from Bluefields to Tampico.

State Department advices say the opposing forces at Vera Cruz have agreed that the battle shall take place outside the city. This assurance has lessened somewhat the anxiety which the department felt for Americans and other foreigners in the besieged city. It is understood that the agreement between the Federal General Huerta and General Diaz was not formal.

DIX KEEPS OUT OF DISPUTE

New York Governor Will Take No Part In Clash Between County Authorities and Socialists Over Right to Speak

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Governor Dix does not intend to interfere, for the present at least, in the dispute between the authorities of Herkimer county and the Socialists regarding the right of the latter to hold public meetings in Little Falls. In a statement today the Governor said:

"This is a question of constitutionality which should be passed upon by the courts."

After a conference with Herbert E. Merril, Socialist member of the assembly from Schnectady, Attorney General Carmody issued a statement tonight in which he contends in effect that the constitution guarantees the right of free speech and that this right "is too valuable to be left with police officers to enforce or restrain."

Mr. Merrill came here at the request of the State committee of the Socialist party, which plans to hold a meeting in Little Falls Monday. Charles Edward Russell, socialist candidate for Governor, and other State candidates have been assigned to address this meeting. Mr. Merrill consulted with the attorney general to get the State authorities to guarantee them protection against police interference. Attorney General Carmody says he advised Mr. Merrill that the Socialists undoubtedly had the right to assemble and cited provisions of the State constitution. His statement continues:

"No disorderly act must be committed. Public thoroughfares must not be unreasonably blockaded. Subject to these restraints the right to assemble and hold public political meetings cannot be denied by any municipality, not even by the State itself."

Arrested While Speaking

Little Falls, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Dr. Algernon S. Crapsey, a former Episcopal clergyman of Rochester, was arrested here today while addressing a street crowd on the subject of the "Sermon on the Mount." He was taken to police headquarters, holding the Bible in his hand. The arrest was an incident of the attempt of the authorities to prevent street meetings of Socialists in sympathy with the striking mill workers.

In court this afternoon Robert A. Bakeman, a former clergyman of Schenectady, who was arrested several days ago for attempting to address an outdoor meeting of textile strike sympathizers, was found guilty on the charge of violating a city ordinance. The penalty was fixed at a fine of $50 of 50 days in jail. Bakeman chose the jail sentence.

WILL PUSH SUIT.

N. J. Attorney General Takes Up Alabama Coal Co. Case.

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 19.—As a result of the application of the Alabama Consolidated Coal & Iron Company to the Supreme Court, to have discontinued the proceedings instituted by the attorney general of New Jersey, attacking a bond issue by the Alabama company on the ground that the proceedings had not been pressed and that their pendency interfered with the reorganization of the company, Justice Trenchard today made an order directing the attorney general to at once proceed with the suit and to serve a copy upon the company within five days.

The Alabama company was recently declared insolvent by the Alabama courts, and is now in process of re-organization. It is claimed that the suit of the attorney general against the action of the Alabama company to set aside a bond issue to replace preferred stock, was prompted by outside parties and that neither the attorney general nor the State of New Jersey had any interest in the matter.

W. & L. 24; ST. JOHNS 14.

Both Teams Put Up a Good Game—Won in Second Half.

Lexington, Va., Oct. 19.—Washington & Lee defeated St. John's College of Annapolis this afternoon, 24 to 14. Both teams played good football, the first half ending with the score a tie, 14 to 14.

Washington & Lee made a third touchdown and goal and a goal from the field in the third quarter and held St. John's to no score in the last half.

FUND IS CLIMBING SLOWLY, STEADILY

Ten Thousand Dollars Can and Will be Secured in Wilmington.

DONATIONS FOR SATURDAY

Something Over $100 Contributed Yesterday—Ladies Are Evidencing an Interest—Teams Have Been Assigned.

Slowly, steadily, with every indication of ultimate success, the Woodrow Wilson campaign fund is climbing. Team workers are beginning to realize the civic responsibility that is resting upon each and with the beginning of the new week, renewed effort will be put forth to push the fund well beyond its present limits and to reach the coveted goal at which several conditional offers will begin to be realized upon.

Yesterday a personal letter was addressed to each of the ten members of each of the ten teams advising them that by Tuesday night each team member will be expected to come forward with $10 in subscriptions. This is by no means a difficult assignment and it is expected that every member of the committee of One Hundred will "make good" or surrender his credentials. Only a little effort is required and for the good name of Wilmington, it is expected that each of these one hundred representative, progressive Wilmingtonians will either interest a sufficient number of his fellow citizens in the movement or come up with the "ten" himself. If there is any doubt as to the availability of the material to work upon, a list will be furnished by the general chairman.

The ladies of Wilmington yesterday took hold of the proposition that they help with an energy and enthusiasm that promises results in the early days of the coming week. Several of them added their names to the list of contributors while others gave assurance that they will do some little canvassing themselves. This is after all what will count. Messrs. Gieschen Brothers yesterday set the pace for the entire city with a contribution of $25, while the "noblest Trojan of them all", Mr. Martin Rathjen planked down $5 for Democratic success. These with 25 other progressive German Americans put their names to Chairman H. E. Bonitz's list and placed it the leader for the day.

The first contribution of Aeroplane stock in the United States to the Woodrow Wilson campaign fund came from Mr. Frank P. Meier and will be disposed of to the highest bidder. Proposals should be addressed to Chairman W. A. McGirt. The Mercer Place lot donated by Mr. J. B. Mercer, has reached a bid of $60 and a number of inquiries were made yesterday which leads to the belief that before the canvass is over a neat sum will be realized from this source for the Wilson fund. Send proposals to Chairman McGirt early this week if you desire to own this very desirable lot.

CAROLINA SWAMPS BINGHAM

University Eleven Buries Asheville Boys 47 to 0 Score—Team Shows Up Well—Prospects Bright For V. P. I.

(Special Star Telearam.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 19.—Carolina defeated Bingham, of Asheville, today 47 to 0, the largest score that a Carolina team has made in years. The prep school boys, coached by Bob Winston, former Carolina captain, did not present as strong a team as last year, when they held the University scoreless for three quarters. Tillett and Wakeley gained at will around the ends and Applewhite's bull-like rushes through the line could not be stopped under five yards.

The whole Carolina team displayed more fight and ginger than it has done before. The interference was much improved and prospects seem brighter for V. P. I. next Saturday.

In the second quarter Coach Martin sent in his scrub team. Bingham rushed the ball down to the 10-yard line, Angier and Breas doing most of the work, but the scrubs braced and could not be forced over. Carolina scored in the first three minutes of play. Wakeley's 50-yard run and rushes outside tackle brought the ball within striking distance and Tillett shot over the line. After that touchdowns came rapidly, Tillett making the first three. His all-round work was sensational. Frequently he ran back punts further than they had been kicked and always he gained from scrimmage.

The forward pass was worked successfully three times by Carolina and once by Bingham. Preas, Angier and Webster starred for Bingham. Angier proved himself a player of unusual ability. Abernathy's work at tackle was noteworthy.

GRIDIRON BATTLES.

Vandy Swamps Ga.—Swarthmore 21: Navy 6—Other Scores.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 19.—Carrying the ball around the ends practically at will, Vanderbile swamped the University of Georgia football team today 46 to 0. The score was unexpectedly large.

The Red and Black line never threatened the Vanderbilt goal, and appeared entirely helpless to stop the Yellow and Black backfield.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—In a spectacular game the University of Chicago football players today defeated the University of Iowa eleven 34 to 14. For three periods the Iowans led, the score being 14 to 13 at the end of the third. But Chicago was strengthened with fresh players and made three downs. Right Guard Pierce, a substitute, made all three of Chicago's three touchdowns in the last period, ploughing through the line for long gains.

Columbus, O., Oct. 19.—The University of Michigan football eleven defeated Ohio State University today 14 to 0 in the last game which will be played by the teams of the two universities, a Western Conference decree making it necessary for Ohio State to discontinue relations with the Wolverines hereafter.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 19.—Showing a mastery of the forward pass in so great a number of variations as to keep their opponents guessing from start to finish, Swarthmore this afternoon defeated the midshipmen by the score of 21 to 6. Navy's only score was made in the first period, when Alexander received a Swarthmore fumble and ran 10 yards for the tally.

EASY FOR HARVARD

Crimson Defeats Amherst 46 to 0—Strongest Team In Years

Cambridge, Mass., October 19.—Harvard scored its easiest victory of several seasons over Amherst today, piling up 46 points to Amherst's none, on a rain-soaked field. The Crimson attack included nearly everything possible under the revised rules, while its defense was impervious. Amherst did not score a single first down. The Crimson backfield was one of great power, despite the absence of Captain Wendell, because of injury. Brickley, who scored three touchdowns for Harvard, tore through Amherst's defense and further aided to Harvard's total by two field goals. He failed on three other tries. H. Hardwick also made two touchdowns.

Many people believe in signs except the one plainly marked "Fresh Paint!"

ROCKY MOUNT WAS DEFEATED

Wilmington High School Won In Football Contest at League Park by Score of 41 to 0—Game in Detail.

Witnessed by the largest crowd that has attended an amateur football game in Wilmington in recent years, the Wilmington High School defeated the Rocky Mount Y. M. C. A. eleven at League Park yesterday afternoon by a score of 41 to 0. The ball was always in Rocky Mount's territory and the Railroads were outplayed at every turn by the local boys.

The weather was fairly favorable for a football contest. The Wilmington boys were outweighed by 10 pounds to the man by the Railroaders, but it appears from the result that weight did not count for much. The features of the game were the all-round team work of the entire Wilmington team, the goal kicking of Williams, the consistent gains by all backfield men and Hall's broken field running.

First Quarter—After exchange of punts, on which Wilmington gained about 25 yards and two forward passes, "Bob" Burnett scored first touchdown for Wilmington; Williams kicks goal; Rocky Mount kicks off to Wilmington; Monroe returns ball 20 yards; Hall gains eight yards; Williams 20 yards on end run; Monroe gains five yards; (Quigley, of Rocky Mount, hurt and carried off the field); Hall 15 yards on left end; Hashagen loses 5; Williams gains 12; Hall carries ball over six yards for first touchdown; Rocky Mount kicks off to Wilmington; Monroe gained 12 yards on forward pass; Williams lost 6; Bob Burnett took ball on forward pass from middle field for touchdown, but the quarter was over before the ball was put into play.

Second Quarter—Williams gained 5 yards; Burnett went 10 yards through line, on intercepted pass Henly for Rocky Mount gains 10 yards; ball on Wilmington's 43-yard line; Hall scores touchdown through broken field running; Wilmington kicks to Rocky Mount, ball down in tracks; Rocky Mount fails to gain through line and loses three yards on end run; then lose eight yards on end run; an attempted kick Hashagen covers ball on Roky Mount's 40-yard line; Hall makes one yard; Hashagen makes one yard; Burnett loses three yards on forward pass, Hall to Monroe; Monroe scores touch-down; Williams kicks goals. Score 21 to 0 in favor of Wilmington. Rocky Mount kicks off to Wilmington. Burnett returns ball five yards; Monroe gains eight on end run; Hall gains 15 on end run; Burnett makes five through line; Williams makes first touch-down; Hashagen no gain; Williams no gain; Hall gains two yards; Williams punts across goal line; Rocky Mount's ball on her own 20 yard line; Rocky Mount loses five yards; no gain; gains four yards around end; on attempted punt Grant recovers fumble; C. Burnett makes 11 yards around end; Hall no gain; Williams nine yards; B. Burnett takes ball over for fourth touch-down, no goal; score 27 to 0 in favor of Wilmington. Rocky Mount kicks to Wilmington; Burnett loses two yards. End of the second uqarter.

During the intermission between the second and third quarter about 100 High School boys and girls gave the school yell for the team. At no time during the first half did Rocky Mount make first down.

Third Quarter—Wilmington kicks to Rocky Mount; gains two yards; no gain: one yard; Rocky Mount punts outside at middle field; time out for Lambert; Burnett gains five then gains one; Hashagen loses 10; Hashagen fails to gain; ball goes over on downs; Rocky Mount loses five; gains five; gains six; loses three; ball goes over on downs; Hall loses three; Williams fails to gain; Burnett makes eight yards on forward pass; Burnett makes first down; Rocky Mount penalized five yards off side; Burnett fails to gain; Williams makes first down; Hall makes eight yards; Rocky Mount penalized 15 yards for illegal tackling; Monroe makes three yards; Burnett six; Hashagen makes first down; Hall carries ball 10 yards to two-yard line; Wiliams loses five yards; Burnett carries ball over for fifth touchdown; Williams kicks goal. Score 34 to 0 in favor of Wilmington. Rocky Mount kicks five yards and Merriman returns it two yards. End of the third quarter.

Fourth Quarter—Thames makes three yards; Hall six; forward pass, Hall to Burnett 15 yards; Williams loses seven; Burnett makes five; Rocky Mount penalized 15 yards for illegal tackling; Monroe makes five; Hall loses seven; forward pass Hall to Burnett 20 yards; Hall makes four yards; Williams takes ball over for sixth touch-down; Williams kicks goal. Score 41 to 0 in favor of Wilmington. Rocky Mount kicks to Wilmington; Herring returns ball 20 yards; C. Burnett no gain; Hall made eight yards; C. Burnett seven; B. Burnett seven; Wilmington penalized five yards off side; Hall to Wells, 15 yards; Hall four yards; C. Burnett four yards. Game over.

During the game many substitutes were put in and by the time that the game was over the Wilmington team was practically a new one. The substitutes put in were: Rhodes, Wells, Corbett, Silverman, Grant, J. Monroe and Thames. The officials of the game were: Russell, of LaFayette, referee; Smith, of Davidson, umpire; Lynch, head linesman. Timekeepers: King and G. T. Smith; linemen, Palmgren and LeGwin. The line-up was as follows:

LOCKE CRAIG ON DEMOCRACY

Democracy in Good Shape—Freight Shipments Between East and West—State Fair Ball a Success—Reward.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 19.—Hon. Locke Craig, Democratic nominee and next Governor of North Carolina, spent a few hours here today on his way from Lillington to Clayton in the prosecution of his campaign which is now at its height. He addressed an exceptionally large crowd at Lillington yesterday, he says, and found Harnett county Democracy in splendid form. He spoke at Clayton this afternoon. He says he is finding Democracy thoroughly in line all over the State. The people are coming out much as they would go to church. They just want to hear the good old Democratic doctrines, he says, and turn out without there being any fight on at all worth considering. It is only a question now, he says, of the length to which increased Democratic majorities will go and it looks like the vote will be unanimous in North Carolina.

Governor Kitchin has issued a reward of $80 for the arrest of Thomas Rowland, alias Claude Rowland, wanted in Holly Springs township, this county, for the recent murder of Francis McLean. The people of that community have offered an additional reward of $60.

Secretary A. J. McKelway, of the National Child Labor Committee, spent the day here in conference with members of the North Carolina Child Labor Committee and went to Fayetteville where he preaches tomorrow in the Presbyterian church, of which he was formerly pastor. He is delighted that there seems to be comparatively easy sailing in North Carolina in getting the advances in the child labor laws desired at the approaching session of the Legislature. He says there will be 11 Southern Legislatures in session at the same time this Winter with child labor bills pending in which the National Committee is interested. In North Carolina the State child labor committee and leading manufacturers have about agreed to changes in the child labor law that will be asked of this Legislature so that there is little promise of any contest in this State.

Commissioner of Insurance Young reports the arrest of two more persons charged with implication in the burning of a school house in Polk county, making 18 persons who are to be tried as participants in the burning, which grew out of a bitter school district consolidation contest involving removal of school house.

Complaints have come to the Corporation Commission from time to time of the slow movement of less than carload shipments of freight between eastern and western North Carolina, and intermediate points, and the Commission has recently taken this matter up vigorously with the higher officers of the Southern Railway Company, insisting that these lines of road, constructed primarily for the convenience of interchange of traffic between Eastern and Western North Carolina, should not be diverted by congestion of through traffic or by any other consideration, from serving this primary purpose, and it is the purpose of the Commission to insist that prompt and expeditious freight service be given for interchange of products from point to point in this State.

The Commission is convinced that there would be a much greater interchange of products between these sections if the public was assured of prompt freight service. The Commission is now assured by the officers of the Southern Railway Company that they are going to give especial attention to the prompt handling of freight shipments between these two sections, and that every reasonable means will be adopted to facilitate the handling of such shipments, and that a local shipment from their extreme western lines in this State to their eastern lines in this State should be handled in about three days.

The Commission desires to call this matter to the attention of the shipping public and to suggest that they enter freely into the interchange of products by freight service between these two sections, relying upon reasonably prompt transportation service and that they give the Commission the benefit of specific complaints as to any shipments between these two sections which is not transported promptly, with copy of bill of lading covering such shipments, so that there may be investigation of every shipment on which there is ground for reasonable complaint of delay in transporting, which will enable the railroad to locate and remove the causes for delay wherever they exist.

The climax of the social features of the State Fair week came Friday evening with the State Fair Ball, given in the handsome new auditorium under the management of Mr. C. Trenholm McClenaghan, as chairman of the hospitality committee. It was a brilliant affair, graced by representative society people from all parts of the State.

CLARK AT KENANSVILLE.

Chief Justice Also Speaks at Wallace. Distribution of Wealth.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wallace, N. C., Oct. 19.—Chief Justice Walter Clark spoke at Kenansville today and this afternoon at Wallace. He had here a large audience of most intelligent citizens, who paid marked attention to his speech. Judge Clark is an excellent speaker and he called attention to the fact that the increase in production had been marvelous, but through their control of National legislation by the special interests, the distribution of wealth has been such as to transfer the accumulations of labor and of the farm from those who create it, to the trusts and multi-millionaires of the country, and also from the South, which is thus dwarfed and impoverished, to the prosperous States of the North. He also stressed the fact that there is a widespread belief that, in view of the sharp contention between the friends of his opponents, that it is not safe for the party to nominate either of them for Senator and that his friends believe that he will be the choice of the primary.

SYRACUSE SLAUGHTERED.

Princeton Had Walkover and Beat New Yorkers 62 to 0.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 19.—Princeton completely outclassed Syracuse here this afternoon and when the slaughter was over had piled up 62 points to none. It was again a case of visitors' weakness rather than the "Tigers'" concerted strength, which was responsible for the size of the score.

Princeton used three sets of backfield men. The New Yorkers were weak on both attack and defense.

125 TO NOTHING

Davidson Defeats Mt. Pleasant by the Largest Score on Record

(Special Star Telegram.)

Davidson, N. C., Oct. 19.—Davidson defeated Mt. Pleasant Collegiate Institute 125 to nothing, the largest score by any college this year. Davidson was in splendid condition and in ankle-deep mud she made only one fumble. Mt. Pleasant fumbled frequently and was unable to break up Davidson's beautiful interference of backfield. Davidson's entire team, especially Captain Graham, Yates, Todd, Morrow, McQueen starred. For Mt. Pleasant Stallings played the best game. The touchdowns were, Graham 5; Todd, 3; Yates, Cosby, Clary, two each; Morrow, Fuller, Howell, J. Howell, G. McWhirter, one each. The officials were: Referee, Richardson; umpire, Brass; timekeeper, McConnell. Time of quarters, 12 minutes each.

CORNEL OUTCLASSED

Defeated by Penn. State In Annual Game 29 to 6

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 19.—Pennsylvania State outclassed Cornell in the annual football game of the two colleges here today and won 29 to 6. Cornell started the scoring, however, making a touchdown in the first quarter on a series of forward passes.

Left Halfback Berryman, for Pennsylvania, scored the first State touchdown after catching a punt on his own 15-yard line and running the length of the field.

HAPPENINGS AT LUMBERTON

Cotton Being Rapidly Marketed—Political News and Views—Yadkin Power Station—Personal and Other News Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Lumberton, N. C., Oct. 19.—The weather during the past week has been ideal for picking cotton and gathering other crops. Cotton has been coming in in large quantities. Much has been said about the crop being short, and if that is so the crop will soon be marketed if it continues to be sold as it has so far since the season opened. The sweet potato crop must be an enormous one judging from the large quantities that are being sold, and the quality is of the best. Prices during the week ranged from 50 cents per bushel up.

Hon. Francis D. Winston, presidential elector at large, is advertised to speak here Tuesday night, 22nd, and Mr. Jas. A. Lockhart will speak on Thursday, 24th. Mr. Lockhart comes in the interest of Judge Clark's candidacy for the Senatorship.

As has already been reported, Congressman Claud Kitchin spoke here Tuesday afternoon and the Robesonian gave in its Thursday issue a lengthy report of the speech, but as might have been expected where there was so much to tell, forgot to tell how many persons were present at different periods of the speech. When the speaker began there were 118 people in the audience. At the end of the first hour there were 190 and about 20 or 30 minutes before the close there were 113. Several ladies were present.

Bladen court adjourned yesterday and Judge Bragaw spent last night in Lumberton, leaving this morning for Fayetteville where he expected to be met by Mrs. Bragaw.

Mr. Jno. B. Pope, who has for the past year been manager for the Western Union at Rockingham, has been transferred to Dallas, Texas. Mr. Pope severed his connection with the Rockingham office yesterday and came to Lumberton last night to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira L. Pope, before leaving for Texas. He will leave tomorrow evening for Dallas. By giving close attention to his duties Mr. Pope has rapidly ascended the ladder of success with the Western Union, and that company never fails to take care of employes who show that the company's interest is their interest. Messrs. Nash Barker, Jno. McIntyre and Sam Jones Stephens, all native Robesonians, are located in Dallas.

There was some excitement in the western part of town last night and old people were reminded of the bombardment of the old forts below Wilmington in the sixties. Mr. Samuel Edwards caught a brindle cur in the act of stealing chickens and opened his artillery on the dog. The first shot threw him, but it took three charges to silence him, and now Lumberton has one dog less.

Thursday afternoon we witnessed rather an unusual incident. Two traveling men who spent the day in town went about the same time to settle their hotel bill before leaving on the evening train. One of them has been visiting Lumberton regularly since 1867 and the other made his first trip here in 1870 since which time he has also been a regular visitor. Two good old soldiers of the grip.

Messrs. R. D. Caldwell & Son opened this morning a special sale to continue until November 16th, during which time many loads of goods will be hauled over this and surrounding counties. We have never seen such a display of advertising matter as they are putting out for this sale. The paper runs from 10 sheets stands down to the smallest handbill. They know how to go after and bring in the customers. Printer's ink does it.

Seats go on sale Monday morning at McMillan's drug store for "Forty-five Minutes From Broadway," which will be seen here Wednesday night. There are 30 people in the company, a majority of them being girls. The management of the theatre does not hesitate to say that this will be the best attraction of the season and advises people to secure their seats early. Mr. Bert Leigh is said to be at his best this season, and all who saw him in the "Man on The Box" last season will be glad of the opportunity to see him again.

The work of constructing the substation for the Yadkin Power Company at this place will soon be completed, and it is expected that within another month the electricity will be driving the machinery of the Lumberton and Dresden cotton mills. When the work is completed here Messrs. Rapp and Reel, who have been engaged on the work here, expect with other employes of the company, to leave for Spain, where contracts have been secured which will require four years to do the work.

The Lumberton newspapers have outgrown themselves. A linotype machine arrived yesterday for the Robesonian and will be installed in a few days. The Advance expects to install a new press at once as the one now in use does not give satisfaction, and as the size of the paper has been increased to eight pages instead of four, a larger press is a necessity.

The Pastime Theatre management some changes which will be appreciated by visitors to the show. The pianola which was installed there last Spring will be replaced by a new Stieff piano, just such as is used in the Academy of Music in Charlotte, and Mr. Meech will resume his former position as piano player. Books containing 12 tickets to the show are now being sold at $1 each, and they are a great convenience.

Mr. M. G. McKenzie has been on the sick list for several days, but is now improving.——Mr. L. C. Townsend, after visiting his family at Morganton where they are spending some time with relatives, returned home Thursday night, coming by Raleigh where he spent one day at the State Fair.——Among the prominent visitors in town today was Col. S. A. L. Johnson, Seaboard representative of Abbottsburg.——Mr. A. W. Peace, formerly of Lumberton, but now of Fayetteville, spent a short while in town last night.——Mrs. A. C. Tebeau, of Charlotte, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Whaley, Sixth and Elm streets.

A man drove into town yesterday morning sitting on the front of his wagon with a pole resting on his shoulder from the end of which was an 'possum swinging by the tail. That man worked all day trying to convince the people that the 'possum was a new variety, and he must have been sent to 100 people who would surely purchase. Finally, one Christian-hearted lady gave the fellow a dollar for the poor animal to get it out of its misery. And that man actually tried to make people think he is a Christian.

Only one more week is left in which voters may register for the coming election. Those who have registered in the past should go and see that their names are on the book. Take no chance, don't depend on someone else to see that you are registered, see for yourself. Registration closes next Saturday, October 26th.

Candidates for the Legislature and the various county offices to be elected on November 5th, will open the campaign at Orrum Monday. A thorough canvass will be made, and in several instances two townships will be visited on the same day. Sheriff McNeill will be with the boys for the purpose of collecting the 1912 taxes, but he can't keep up with them all the way round as he can't work two townships in a day. Taxpayers can look out for him, he'll be there.

An attempt at presenting "Faust" was made here Tuesday night by seven people who arrived from Wilmington Sunday evening. Off the stage the people were as clever as one wants to meet, but on the stage, well, one man who had a pass to the show complained of being cheated. Really, it was a farce sure enough—anyway seen.

Mr. George C. Fisher, of Maxton, has had printed in circular form a letter which he received from Congressman Godwin in regard to the Senatorial contest. That letter is full of good hard sense and will make votes for both Senator Simmons and Congressman Godwin. It is worth anyone's time to read it carefully, as follows:

At Dunn, N. C., Oct. 16, 1912.

Mr. George C. Fisher, Maxton, N. C.

My Dear Mr. Fisher:—Your very kind favor of the 15th inst. has been received and noted. I note that you say the Senatorial contest between Governor Kitchin and Senator Simmons is agitating the minds of the people in Robeson county. I further note your statement to the effect that the farmers of that county are almost solid for me and have exhibited confidence in me as their Representative in Congress.

I want to say that I feel under profound obligations to you and my numerous friends in Robeson county for your confidence and loyal support. You have been very kind to me in every campaign since I have been a candidate in the district, and on account of these facts, I feel that I cannot refuse to answer your letter. I have made it a practice since I have been in Congress to answer frankly and truthfully every letter received from my constituents, and I do not feel now that I would be warranted in refusing to answer your letter in reference to what you have asked me relating to the charges now being made against Senator Simmons. However, I want to say that I do not feel that I would be justified in taking part in the Senatorial contest. I made a statement early in the campaign, to the effect, that under no circumstances would I have anything to do, one way or the other, with the fight.

Answering your questions in reference to Senator Simmons, I will say that I am convinced that Senator Simmons has made a loyal and faithful Senator during his service in the Senate. I feel that he has voted on all measures coming before the Senate, in the interest of the laborers, farmers, producers and consumers of his State, and at the same time having at heart the best interests of the general industrial and commercial development of North Carolina. I have been closely in touch with the Senator in reference to many matters of legislation in which our district has been much interested, and I have always found him conscientious and anxious to do what he could to help build up our district and State. I have no patience whatever with the charge that he is not a Democrat. While he voted, when the tariff bills were being considered, for a revenue duty on many articles which in every instance was consistent with the true principles of the Democratic party, I have no idea that he ever gave a vote which could be construed to amount to a protective or Republican duty on any article. There is no free trade party in the United States. The Democratic party believes in a tariff for revenue only, and a Senator or Member of the House is sworn before he takes his seat to support the Constitution of the United States. This Constitution provides for raising revenue by a tariff on imported articles, and the Democratic party has always stood for a tariff high enough to raise money to run the government and it is the sacred duty of a Democrat to vote for a revenue producing tariff, and as long as he stays within the bounds of a Democratic tariff he should not be criticised by members of his own party. He should be criticised only when he exceeds the revenue producing basis and votes for a protective duty which is advocated by the Republican party.

I think that too much has been said already in reference to the Senatorial contest and too little in behalf of the Democratic ticket. I believe that we should turn to the interest of Woodrow Wilson and Locke Craig and our other Democratic nominees in the counties and see that our district maintains its usual large Democratic majority. Yours very truly,

H. L. GODWIN.

Mr. J. C. Maxwell, who has been spending several days in Maxton, returned nursing a finger which had been bitten by a dog the night before. Mr. Maxwell says the dog leaped at another dog and in passing him hit on the finger a terrible claw with one or two teeth.

Visitors to the State Fair from this section were very few, but everybody is too busy at the present time to throw away time unless absolutely necessary.

Several Lumberton lawyers attended Bladen court this week but they all returned home last night.

A young white man by the name of Faircloth was lodged in jail Thursday night charged with larceny in Smith's township.

Report has reached here that there came near being a joint political debate at Rowland this week, Wednesday afternoon, we believe it was.

Spark's circus arrived here this morning at 4:30, and about 6:30 rain began to fall, not much, but enough to wilt the white dresses which began at an early hour to line up on the street to view the parade. Some of the fakirs which are following the circus came in last night.

A cluster of seven incandescent lights were placed on the corner opposite the town hall yesterday, which adds greatly to the appearance of things in that part of town at night. But Supt. Pitman is always on the job when it comes to improving the service.

SPEAKING FOR CLARK.

P. W. Glidewell and Bruce Craven Talk for Chief Justice.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wadesboro, N. C., Oct. 19.—Three speeches were made in Anson today in behalf of Judge Clark, P. W. Glidewell, of Rockingham county, spoke at Morven and at Wadesboro, and Bruce Craven spoke at Wadesboro. Both of the speakers denounced the judge's opponents in vigorous terms, charging that Simmons is wrong on the tariff question and that Kitchin is wrong on the trust question.

Mr. Glidewell was especially bitter in his attacks, saying that he had heard Kitchin say in his campaign for Governor, that if elected he would make the trust barons look out from behind prison bars. He said the people of Rockingham county had followed Kitchin as a Moses, believing that he would keep his promise and relieve them from the burdens imposed on tobacco farmers by the American Tobacco Co., by reason of its being a trust in restraint of trade. He refused to say anything about Kitchin's record as Governor, but charged that Alex. Field had made a good Governor. He declared that Simmons was trying to Republicanize North Carolina; applied the usual criticism of his Lorimer and lumber votes.

Mr. Craven declared that there was no hope for Simmons' election, but aimed most of his ammunition at him. Both speakers admitted having been for Kitchin in his former campaign, but had undergone a change.

About one hundred men were present and there was loud applause by the Clark supporters.

MAXTON THIS WEEK

Drainage Celebration to be Held In Robeson County

At Maxton, N. C., Oct. 19.—On Wednesday, October 23rd, Robeson county will celebrate the commencement of work on the enormous Back and Jacobs Swamp drainage canal, the largest drainage project that has ever been inaugurated in North Carolina under the State drainage act.

The celebration is to be held about three miles from Maxton near the place where the big digger dredge of the Brett Engineering and Construction Co., will be working at that time and a road will be cut into the heart of the swamp so the work can be inspected at close range.

The features of the programme will be speeches by the Hon. Joseph Hyde Pratt, Hon. Joseph A. Brown, of Chadbourn, and the Hon. O. L. Clark, one of the first agitators for drainage in North Carolina. The dredge will be seen in actual operation and will demonstrate how it digs stumps, handles big logs and moves dirt. Large stumps will also be shot to show how dynamite is used on the work.

The affair will be exceedingly interesting. Arrangements are being made to take care of a large number of visitors and every person in the State interested in drainage is invited. The ladies of the Carolina College Club will serve lunch.

In all 26 miles of canal will be dug and 81,000 acres of the finest land in North Carolina reclaimed. This will require the continual use of three machines for two years. The cost will be $150,000. Speaking will begin at 1:30 P. M.

Doctors Use This For Eczema

Dr. Evans, Ex-Commissioner of Health, says: "There is almost no relation between skin diseases and the blood." The skin must be cured through the skin. The germs must be washed out, and so salves have long ago been found worthless. The most advanced physicians of this country are now agreed on this, and are prescribing a wash of wintergreen, thymol and other ingredients for eczema and all other skin diseases. This compound is known as D.D.D. Prescription for Eczema.

Dr. Holmes, the well known skin specialist, writes: "I am convinced that the D.D.D. Prescription is as much a specific for eczema as quinine for malaria. I have been prescribing the D.D.D. remedy for years." It will take away the itch the instant you apply it.

In fact, we are so sure of what D.D.D. will do for you that we will be glad to let you have a $1 bottle on our guarantee that it will cost you nothing unless you find that it does the work.

Sunday, October 20, 1912.

It will never go for a reactionary man to marry a progressive woman.

Some men and women are grown up children, so they have to be humored instead of being cracked across the knuckles.

Many men with broad views make narrow escapes from being regarded as simply straddlers.

The man who votes on impulse or casts a ballot under the influence of a temporary emotion, does not do credit to his head.

A piece of political news from New York is headed "Job Hedges." Others do, too. A great many will feel like hedging in a couple of weeks.

A North Carolina Democratic Senatorial primary campaign, in which indignation meetings are held, seems to be one on a South Carolina primary.

A suffragette declared in her speech: "Women are getting bigger and broader." Probably she was talking to some who were sure that they are getting smaller and thinner.

Col. Roosevelt appears not to want any sympathy, probably preferring not to be placed under any obligations to reciprocate by ceasing to occupy an attitude of hostility to everybody who wants to be President.

The producer has an exceedingly languid interest in the noise made by consumers as to prices. However, both blame the middleman, but he seems to be able to stand it.

Thomas W. Lawson, the Boston millionaire capitalist, pretended like he had a story to tell the investigation committee, but he would not tell it all. Probably he is reserving it for the delectation of the marines.

Many Republican spielers are on the stump, but their party is on the run. The country now has about as much need for the Republican party as the naked truth has for a suit of Sunday clothes.

Men say women cannot live together in peace, but men do not seem to be able to live together without war. When women fall out they turn up their noses at each other, but when men can't agree they try to make each other turn up their toes. That's the difference.

It has been decided at Washington that imitation pearls, a very cheap product manufactured in European cities, must pay a tariff duty of 20 per cent. With a high tariff on imitation diamonds, editors will be absolutely prevented from making a decent appearance in public.

Cole Younger, the old partner of Jesse James and his band of former train robbers, was touched by a pickpocket a few days ago and relieved of $95. Even so, Cole knows that the pickpocket is a sniveling piker compared with him in the days when treasure trains were looted at the point of a gun.

In an interview at Baltimore, Dr. Eugene W. Chafin, Prohibition candidate for President, predicted that Woodrow Wilson will carry 40 of the 48 States in the coming election. Of course, that is the sober judgment of the Prohibition candidate and is not intended as an effort on his part to throw cold water on Taft or Roosevelt.

Thomas W. Lawson, of Boston, was a witness before the slush fund investigation at Washington on Thursday. Mr. Lawson had a cock and bull story to tell, but when pinned down for the facts he could not or would not deliver the goods. He talked like a man who is mad at Wall Street for competing with him in restraint of deals.

"LEAD, KINDLY LIGHT."

In a Washington dispatch it is said of Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, who died suddenly in Washington on Thursday, that "he was most widely known, perhaps, for his unyielding bitterness towards the South, and frequent denunciations of Southern Civil War leaders." What a narrow margin for a reputation!

Senator Heyburn is now a dead man, and all that may be said of his enmity to the South is that he furnished the country a plain example of the futility of a life given over to resentment and strife. This applies to men North and South. It applies to men in political parties. It applies to men in the factions of parties. It applies to men in communities. Literally, the men who are narrow and bitter, who are uncharitably partisan, who are uncompromising and bigoted, fritter away their opportunity for usefulness.

The man who wants to make himself ugly, who wants to attack with tongue or weapon, who delights in assailing others, whose forte it is to knock down and drag out, and put the other fellow out of commission, have in them the elements which bring about their own destruction. They are looked upon as freaks or fanatics. They lose their influence. They are looked upon as jokes. They are mildly regarded as nuisances. They are contemplated with pity.

It is not worth while to say anything of a dead man except to use his characteristics as an example for good. Nobody wants to be looked upon as a fire-eater and narrow minded individual who evokes a laugh more than serious resentment. The South generally treated poor Senator Heyburn's antagonism with humor. He was powerless to injure anyone except himself. Among the broad men of the North and the South, the Northerners and the Southerners who go about railing and roaring, are suspected of aiming at getting a little cheap notoriety. A man who prefers notoriety to reputation gains nothing and ultimately loses out in a grave that is soon forgotten.

Let us lay a wreath upon the grave of Senator Heyburn, that he is no longer a live man. Possibly he was of a temperament that would not permit him to be otherwise than extreme. Nevertheless, the man who tears down, instead of builds up, is a useless cog in society or politics. The world should be better because a man has lived in it. The world needs men who will not wound, but who will pick up the wounded, bind up their bruises, send them to the hospital, and leave money to pay for further attention to him who may have fallen by the wayside.

The Good Samaritan lived many centuries ago, but his kindness of heart and his brotherly love is a monument that preserves his good deed for all time. The Odd Fellows inculcate that kind of brotherly love, and if the Bible were not here to keep his memory green that great fraternal order among men would go on impressing upon their fellowmen the kindness shown by an ancient lover of mankind. All men were brothers of the Good Samaritan.

In politics Senator Heyburn was insurgent in act and standpat in principle. He was one of those men who differ and prefer to be extreme and radical. He had a certain kind of brilliancy but it was shed in the wrong direction. Why should men waste their lives running in a narrow groove? Why should men, for selfish purposes, or self aggrandizement, or self promotion, dig about the feet of other men to bring them down that they may exalt themselves or gain the cheap applause of the passing throng?

The unforgiving, the unforgetting, the unrelenting man lives to no purpose. When he is dead he is not missed. His place can be filled by an earnest, sincere, honest and broad man.

"Lives of great men all remind us we can make our lives sublime,
And, departing, leave behind us, footprints on the sands of time."

A CRIME NOW, A CRIME THEN

The Senate Committee's investigation of the slush fund which elected Roosevelt in 1904 has served the purpose of demonstrating the criminality of using trust money to influence the elections of this country. All those who have testified have been unwilling witnesses, and their reluctance and hesitation constitute convincing proof of their conviction that it was wrong. Even the disposition to try to drag in all the campaign managers is plain evidence that it was hoped to make it appear less heinous. Because others did it is no justification of such political methods on the part of any party.

With all the revelations made, the biggest is that of the enormous trust subscriptions to elect Roosevelt in 1904. Trusts or corporations may have subscribed to other funds, but the instances were insignificant compared with the unanimity and hugeness of the trust and special interest donations to the Republican campaign. The actions of the witnesses have shown that they had a guilty conscience. They knew it was wrong and indefensible. The public knew it, and even if there were then no laws governing corruption funds and publicity, it was a crime neretheless. The secrecy maintained about it shows that the campaign managers realized that it was a crime, even though not covered by a statute. Yet George B. Cortelyou still attempts to defend it, but the New York World thus destroys his defense:

"The best answer to Mr. Cortelyou's defense of the Republican campaign fund of 19104 is that no campaign fund could be raised by such methods today without committing a crime. They are prohibited by law, both State and Federal law. If the corporations today were to contribute to a National campaign fund as they did in 1904, when Mr. Cortelyou was chairman of the Republican National Committee, their responsible officers would be sent to jail. If a campaign manager today concealed contributions as the Republican National Committee did in 1904, he would be sent to jail. The American people have made crimes of the campaign practices that were pursued in 1904 and that he still defends."

The World did not consume much space in the above, but it drives the nail home in showing that if it is now a crime under statutes since enacted, it was just as much a crime before laws were passed to regulate such corrupt and dangerous practices. Corruption is presumed where large campaign funds are used, and the presumption is all the greater because trusts, which subscribed 73 1-2 per cent of the Roosevelt fund, were identified with the Republican party as beneficiaries and partners in mutually getting control of the government.

One of the regretable features of this campaign is that some of those engaged in what has since been made a crime are yet conspicuous before the American people. What the people ought to do to them is a plenty.

WHO IS A DEMOCRAT, AGAIN?

The State Democratic committee is to make another effort at defining the qualifications of voters who may participate in the Democratic Senatorial primary to be held November 5th. Some weeks ago the committee adopted a resolution decreeing that in order to vote for any of the Senatorial candidates a voter shall have voted the straight Democratic ticket. That was construed to mean that scratching debarred a voter, even though he may not vote for any one candidate of any other party. Many thought the rule too exact, and so the committee is to meet in Raleigh next Thursday night to satisfy the demand for a less rigid ruling.

State Chairman Webb has issued a call for the meeting of the committee and the call has the concurrence of a majority of the committeemen. A modification of the rule also meets the approval of all three of the Senatorial candidates, Simmons, Kitchin and Clark. The Georgia Democrats had some such experience as we are now having, and probably this from the Savannah News will enlighten us somewhat:

"Six years ago the faction in control of the Democratic party machinery in this State removed all restrictions as to party fealty and let every white man vote in the primaries. It was all right so long as the recruits voted the right way, but when they began to cast their ballots for the candidates of the other faction there was a howl. Now with the consent of both sides the party lines are to be tightly drawn in the future, and once more we are to have the Democratic primary."

While more or less latitude seems to be favored for the North Carolina primary, it will be seen that there is danger in making the qualification so broad as not to make the primary a strictly Democratic affair.

NEWBERN'S COMING FAIR.

The Eastern Carolina Fair, which Newbern has revived, will be held in that city October 29, 30 31 and November 1. It promises to be a fine success, as the business men of Newbern took hold of the matter more than a year ago and systematically arranged the details, agreed upon plans and carried them out in a business-like way. Not only will there be a splendid exhibition of the agricultural, horticultural and industrial resources of tidal Carolina, but many attractions have been secured for the entertainment of visitors. The display of products at the Newbern fairs always have been of an extraordinary character, for there is a superb region from which to draw exhibits. Those who take in this fair can rest assured that they will be benefitted, interested and entertained, for when the enterprising Newbern men undertake anything they make it go slick. We have never seen a more genial, courteous and hospitable people than those of the city of Newbern, and The Star wishes them the most abundant success with their fair.

The Newbern Sun a few days ago issued an elaborate 48 page fair edition. It was not only a handsome, but thoroughly excellent publication. As a piece of newspaper making it did credit to Editor Dunn and the Sun people, and as a reflex of the business and public spirit of Newbern it was in every way worthy of her business men. The Sun's fair edition embraced 12,000 copies and it was an impressive advertisement of that prosperous and promising city of our eastern country. It was handsomely illustrated, and the reading matter and booster features make it a valuable and attractive medium picturing and exploiting the wide-awake city of Newbern.

In Cleveland, Ohio, 40,000 men and women have signed up on a boycott against eggs, each solemnly agreeing not to eat an egg for three weeks. They are trying to compel the cold storage people to reduce the price. Why not buy up the hens which furnish the supply for the cold storages? A hen syndicate will beat a boycott. What we ought to do in this country is to produce more ourselves and not depend upon others for what we can produce first hand. Give us the hens and you can go to with the cold storages.

Col. Roosevelt fired the first shot at Armageddon, but a crank fired the one that hit. We are not surprised to see the crack-brains getting on the firing line.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Sir William Ramsey, the English chemist, says that making gold from baser metals is impossible. And yet we know of many politicians who have made it from brass.—Columbia State.

That was an auspicious combination at Valdosta when the Boys' Corn Clubs and the Girls' Canning Clubs of Lowndes joined in a county exhibit. With the boys adopting modern methods of farming and the girls learning practical domestic economy, there is a great agricultural future ahead of this country.—Savannah News.

REFORMATION OR PUNISHMENT—WHICH?

Editor Star:

Quite recently we have had the attention of the public called again to the women of the underworld. This subject, no doubt, is becoming offensive to the good people of our city. When will our women and children be delivered from such unsavory news items? I am not criticising the officers for arresting these women. It is their duty. I am not finding fault with the papers for calling attention to these things. The people ought to know what is being done. What I am pleading for is this—the suppression of the debauchery which makes such arrests necessary and such publicity possible.

Now, do these women who have been arrested desire to reform, and seek employment? If so, let them reform. That's the thing to do. The Good Book says, "Cease to do Evil; Learn to Do Well." Our Recorder will doubtless be glad to give them a chance. But if they persist in their present cause, let punishment be meted out. They have had ample time to reflect. Enough has been said. To allow them to leave the city is a doubtful policy. If they are a nuisance here, they will be a nuisance elsewhere. One city should not make another city a dumping ground. We should keep the Golden Rule, and "Do Unto Others as We Would Have Them Do Unto Us." How would we like for other towns and cities to allow their undesirable characters to rush into Wilmington? No, let the law be enforced here, and such punishment inflicted as will suppress the social evil, bring about a better condition of affairs, and usher in a brighter day for Wilmington. God hasten it.

HOW SIMMONS LEADERS CONTROLLED NEW HANOVER

To the Editor:—

Much has been said concerning the control of the recent State Convention by partisans of Senator Simmons.

In New Hanover a Chairman of the County Convention was elected who had previously been nominated for State Senate, on account of the solid support of the one hundred or more blind tigers that then existed here (Judge Carter had not then reached Wilmington). This gentleman was against Woodrow Wilson, which gave him the support of those feeling as he did in that matter. This gentleman was for Senator Simmons—with the combination of the three elements, control was easy indeed.

The Chairman was authorized to appoint delegates to the State and Congressional Conventions—the same delegates acted in both cases.

The delegation was headed by a wealthy banker, whose friends do not claim that he has voted a straight Democratic ticket in ten years, but he had raised money to help the Simmons campaign, and was against Woodrow Wilson, and no further qualifications were necessary; he must and did go to Baltimore.

The other delegates were selected with the idea of sending the banker to Baltimore, and helping Senator Simmons in every way possible. A few exceptions in the way of relatives and personal friends were made.

The above statements are absolutely correct in every particular. Yours truly,

THOS. K. WOODY.

MR. BELLAMY NOMINATED

Formally Declared the Choice of Democratic Party as Senator From New Hanover and Brunswick—Convention.

Marsden Bellamy, Esq., one of the leading attorneys of the local bar, was formally declared the choice of the Democratic party as Senator to represent New Hanover and Brunswick counties in the next General Assembly at the convention of the 10th Senatorial District in the Court House here yesterday noon.

Mr. Bellamy had already been nominated in the primary held in this county some months ago and the convention was a mere matter of form. In the brief space of about 15 minutes the convention was called to order, Mr. Bellamy nominated and several short talks were made.

Mr. George Harriss, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of New Hanover, called the meeting to order. Mr. M. C. Guthrie, of Southport, was made chairman, and in assuming the chair Mr. Guthrie made a few remarks in which he referred to the fact that indications are for Democratic success this year. He said that there were strong indications that the Democratic ticket will be elected in Brunswick county, from township constable to a majority for the Democratic Presidential elector. Mr. Guthrie announced that the convention was open for business. Mr. George Harriss placed in nomination Marsden Bellamy, Esq., as candidate for the Senate, stating that he had received the largest number of votes cast in the New Hanover county primary. The nomination was seconded by Mr. Martin Newman.

Robt. Ruark, Esq., said that he desired to take that opportunity to pay a word of tribute to the character and worth of his friend, Mr. Bellamy, whom he said he had known for the past 12 years, both professionally and personally. He said that he would not hesitate to say that the two counties could not have done better in their choice of a man to represent them in the State Senate. First of all, Mr. Bellamy is an honest man, he said, a man who has convictions and is guided by them, controlled by no clique or organization, a man who can be depended upon to do what he thinks is right at all times. He is well educated, trained and equipped for the office to which he has been nominated, he continued. Mr. Ruark said that he believed that the people of the two counties would find in Mr. Bellamy one of the best Senators this district has ever had to represent it.

There were no other nominations and the motion of Mr. Harriss was unanimously adopted. Chairman Guthrie then declared Mr. Bellamy the nominee of the party for the Senate.

Mr. Bellamy was called upon and made a few remarks. He thanked the men who had placed him in nomination and also Mr. Ruark, whom, he said, he was glad to feel was his friend and hoped that he would never do anything to cause a severance of that friendship. He said that as Mr. Ruark had remarked he was not the candidate of any clique or faction in this county or Brunswick; that he had made no pledges nor did he intend to make any, as he did not think a representative should go to the General Assembly with his hands tied on any proposition, as conditions might be found to be altogether different from what they appeared to be during the campaign. He said that to send a representative to the Legislature free to act in the way he thinks best for the people generally is better for the people and the Legislator. The people, he said, should elect a man in whom they have the utmost confidence and then rely upon his judgment to act on the different questions that arise as the exigencies of the occasion seem to merit.

Mr. Bellamy said that there was one thing which he did desire to promise the people of New Hanover and Brunswick counties and that was that he would not be a party to any sneak legislation, that he would not advocate the passage of any local measure of general interest without first giving the people an opportunity to be heard. His plan is to submit to the people through the local newspapers bills affecting the respective counties before their passage is urged in the Legislature.

He said that he had nothing especially to advocate in the Legislature, but that he was a Democrat and in all the matters that claim his attention he would stand by the principles of the party.

Mr. Bellamy was glad to see the indications of Democratic success this year in National politics as well as in the State and he expressed the hope that all electors calling themselves Democrats would vote the straight ticket. He advised against voting for any Republican nominee because the candidate happens to advocate one point or principle which the voter, the Democratic voter, is in favor of. He said that the voter should not lose sight of the fact that whatever good that might come of the point advocated by the Republican candidate would be more than offset by the many bad points. While calling no names, Mr. Bellamy evidently had reference to Tom Settle and his local option plank. It has been reported that several hundred persons, who have heretofore voted the straight Democratic ticket, intend to vote for Settle because of the local option plank, which, however, would avail nothing if elected as even his own party is divided on the question.

In conclusion Mr. Bellamy said that when he goes to Raleigh to the General Assembly he will not lose sight of the fact that he is a representative of both New Hanover and Brunswick counties.

Capt. J. J. Adkins, of Southport, said that he had never had the pleasure of Mr. Bellamy's acquaintance until yesterday morning, but that Brunswick was going to roll up a big vote for him and that the county will elect another Bellamy also—Geo. H. Bellamy—for the House.

There being no further business before the convention, it adjourned.

SPECIAL TERM IN JANUARY

Judge Carter Gracefully Yields to Suggestion of Merchants With Reference to New Hanover Court—His Letter

Judge Frank Carter, of Asheville, who during the past week has been holding court in Onslow, passed through the city last evening en route to Clinton where this week he will hold Sampson Superior Court. Judge Carter was here only between trains but conferred with several Wilmington people at the union station with reference to the special term of court for this county over which some controversy has arisen.

Judge Carter referred only incidentally to the controversy as he had previously mailed to The Star a communication with reference to the special term, which is as follows and which is altogether self-explanatory:

"To the Editor: I accept the suggestion of the Wilmington bar that the proposed special term of court begin on the 6th of January, instead of the 16th of December and shall modify my recommendation accordingly.

"I shall insist, however, that the court be empowered to deal with criminal, as well as civil matters, at least to the extent of disposing of left-over matters on the criminal docket. The better plan, it seems to me, would be to devote the special term almost exclusively to criminal business and to make provision for the trial of civil causes at the regular term in January, by special act of the Legislature, which could easily be secured and in ample time. These are, however, matters of detail which can be arranged with the incoming Board of Commissioners at the civil term in December.

"My services are at the disposal of the people of New Hanover county for the purpose of holding this special term, if desired by them, and the Governor will so order. I feel free to make this tender of my services because both the judge who will be riding the district at that time and the resident judge have conflicting engagements. My own conflicting engagement can be otherwise provided for without prejudice to the public business and without serious inconvenience to me.

"I take this occasion to express to the good people of Wilmington and New Hanover county my profound gratitude for their unwavering support of my feeble efforts for the enforcement of law in that community. To have touched elbows with them in a united endeavor to make Wilmington a cleaner and better town, I account one of the most precious experiences of my whole life. I deeply regret the antagonisms that have unfortunately arisen. The memory of them passes away as the fugitive clouds that fleck the Summer sky, but the spirit of comradeship abides.

"FRANK CARTER."

THE RECORDER'S COURT

Several Cases of Minor Importanec Considered Yesterday

Recorder Furlong had several cases of minor importance for his consideration yesterday morning. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in a case against B. K. Meir, a white man, for riding a bicycle at night without a light. A case against Noble Evans, colored, charging a similar offense, was continued until Monday. Evans is the bicyclist who struck and knocked down Mr. W. A. Martin at Sixth and Princess streets Thursday evening about 6 o'clock.

James Davis, colored, was arraigned on two charges, one for violating the speed law and the other for operating an automobile without having the number properly displayed on the rear of the machine. The negro is a chauffeur for Dr. Caldwell. He was found guilty of violating the speed law and judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs. In the other case his attorney, L. Clayton Grant, Esq., made the point that the law as to the proper display of the number on the rear of the car applies only to the owner of the machine. This case was left open by the Recorder.

James Raleigh, colored, is charged with statutory larceny, which being interpreted means temporary larceny, it being alleged that he stole and rode away a horse belonging to Mr. Geo. W. Branch. The case was continued Monday at the request of the prosecutor.

MEETING OF GREEK CITIZENS

Gathering This Afternoon at Odd Fellows' Hall—Americans Invited

The Greek citizens of the community will hold a meeting this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Odd Fellows' Hall, corner Third and Princess streets. American citizens are most cordially invited to attend. Addresses will be made by a number of prominent American citizens and Mr. D. G. Vafiadi, the Greek Consul, will also make an address. The Greek stores of the city will be closed from 4 o'clock until the close of the meeting. The war in the Balkan States will be the subject for discussion at the meeting and it is thought that plans will be outlined for raising funds for helping the Greeks in their war against the Turks. Some eight or ten Greeks of this city are expected to leave this evening for New York, whence they will depart for their home country to aid in the war.

Hon. John D. Bellamy, Maj. W. N. Harriss and Herbert McClammy, Esq., have accepted invitations to be present and deliver addresses. They will doubtless be heard with great interest. Mr. Vafiadi will deliver his address in both English and Greek.

IN THE INTEREST OF PURITY

Mass Meeting In the Academy of Music Next Sunday—Dr. Howard A. Kelly to Speak—Public Generally Invited to Attend

Large cards are being displayed in the windows of stores throughout the city and on all the cars of the Tidewater Power Company, calling attention to the mass meeting for men and youths, to be held in the Academy of Music Sunday afternoon of next week, Oct. 27th.

This meeting is to be held in the interest of "Purity," and will be of an educational nature. Dr. Howard A. Kelly, head of the chair of surgery in Johns Hopkins University, will be the chief speaker on this occasion. Dr. Kelly is known by reputation to almost everyone in this country, and is recognized by the medical profession as one of the world's leading men in his specialty. His reputation is international to an extent true of few surgeons in this country. And on this subect especially, he has fitted himself to speak not only with the unquestioned authority of his profession, but out of a wide experience and close observation obtained through a study of many years of actual conditions in connection with sexual vice. He comes, therefore, not only as a great physician and surgeon, but as a student of practical conditions and an ardent defender of the purity of manhood and the protection of womanhood from the awful ravages which accompany the social evil.

With Dr. Kelly comes Mr. Pentz, the practical head of the Vice Crusade in Baltimore, which has accomplished so much already for the purification of the morals of that great city. Mr. Pentz's experience, which he will give in his address, will be of inestimable help to Wilmington in her present effort to cleanse herself of her vices.

Every man who wants to know the truth, as told by unquestioned authority and practical experience, especially if he questions the ability of any powers that be to better conditions accompanying vice, should be present. Illumination is what every one needs, and most men declare their need of; and illumination is what this meeting is seeking to give. "Let the light in!" will be its keynote. Remember the date and hour—Sunday, October 27th, at 4:30 in the afternoon, at the Academy of Music.

BANK OF BRUNSWICK.

Annual Meeting Held at Southport on Friday Night.

Robert Ruark, Esq., returned yesterday from Southport where Friday night he attended the first annual meeting of the stockholders and the board of directors of the Bank of Brunswick. The annual meetings were held on the first anniversary of the bank's opening for business, the bank having begun business on the 8th day of October, 1911. The stockholders of the bank were well represented and were enthusiastic over what the institution had already accomplished and the outlook for the future.

The board of directors, all of whom except one, were re-elected, consists of the following well known business men; W. H. Pyke, J. Berg, Richard Dosher, Price Burpless, J. B. Ruark, John Jenrette, William St. George and Col. H. K. White, of Southport; Lindsey Walker, of Town Creek; C. A. Russ, of Shallotte, and Elisha Sellers, of Supply. The directors re-elected the old officers of the bank, as follows: W. H. Pyke, president; Price Furpless, vice president, and Cronly G. Ruark, cashier.

Beginning business a year ago with a capital stock paid in of $10,000, the affairs of the bank show that it has earned for its stockholders during the first year of its existence practically 15 per cent. upon the capital stock. The board of directors decided not to declare a dividend, but created a surplus fund placing $600 to such acount. The deposits of the bank are now between $45,000 and $50,000.

The bank and its officers devote their efforts especially to furnishing proper banking facilities to the people of Brunswick county and to the encouragement and building up of the interests of that county.

The bank begins its second year in a handsome new bank building with every facility to meet the needs of its patrons.

MILLS BOY ARRESTED

Officer Left for Savannah to Bring Him Back to Wilmington

Deputy Sheriff A. L. Kelly left yesterday afternoon for Savannah, Ga., where he goes to bring back to this city Frank Mills, a 15-year old white youth, who is wanted here to answer a charge of forgery. The youth was arrested in the Georgia city on a warrant sent there by Justice J. C. King before whom the preliminary hearing will be held. The officer expects to return Monday with the boy, who has agreed to come back without extradition papers.

The warrant upon which the boy was arrested was sworn out by a member of the firm of Peck & Holloway, which cashed a check said to be forged for $18.35. It is said that a member of the firm of J. M. Solky & Co., which cashed a check for $30, has also sworn out a warrant for the boy.

The Star yesterday morning erroneously stated that Mr. Joseph W. Yates was one of the several who had cashed checks for young Mills. Mr. Yates said yesterday that he did not cash a check for the boy for any amount nor had any check been presented to him by the youth. In all of his long experience in the banking business Mr. Yates has never cashed a worthless check and it is a pretty safe bet that he will not begin now, for there is hardly a more careful banker or business man anywhere in the country than Mr. Yates. The Star regrets that Mr. Yates' names was brought into the matter, when he had nothing to do with it. Mr. Yates' name was confused with that of another by The Star's informant, causing the error.

WANT FOUR THOUSAND VOTES

Democrats Should Show Their Strength at Forthcoming Election—Convention Representation Is Desirable

Four thousand votes, a 90 per cent majority of them, of course, for Democracy, are entirely within the range of possibility, if the Democrats of the county will do their full duty at the approaching election.

This became known yesterday when there was completed an abstract of the tax books which shows a little over 3,000 white voters in the city. This is easily apparent when it is known that the abstract actually shows 2,762 persons on the tax list in Wilmington township alone. Added to these should be at least 250 voters who are over 50 and list no taxes and a number who may be classed as delinquent. This gives an even 3,012. A very conservative estimate is 1,000 voters in the county outside of Wilmington and this mark will be easily reached with all the suburban development that has been so pronounced for the past several years. Thus it will be seen that 4,000 voters in the county is a very conservative estimate of the county's strength at the polls and it is sincerely hoped that these will register and vote in the coming election.

This end is especially desired in order that New Hanover may take rank with the other progressive counties of the State in its strength in the State and district conventions. If all vote, the county can give 3,500 for Governor and President. This would give New Hanover 70 votes in the Congressional, Senatorial and Judicial conventions and 23 in the State convention. This would place New Hanover along with the other big counties of the State in the councils of the Democratic party and would give it a standing in State politics that cannot be despised.

One Man's System

"I talked with our foreman yesterday. I spoke of the cost of living. He says he started in on less wages than I am getting and managed to save money. It seems almost impossible, but he began by making a schedule of his living expenses—those things absolutely necessary. What remained he called his profits, and used half for pleasure expenses, saving the other half. He said it was all due to the little system he used, and knowing exactly what he spent."

SHOT NEGRO MAN

Capt. Warren Moore Used Rifle When Coca-Cola Bottles Were Thrown

Pete Jenkins, colored, was shot in the thigh with a rifle but not seriously injured yesterday morning by Capt. Warren Moore, of the river steamer Cadet. Jenkins and another negro were throwing coca-cola bottles at Capt. Moore at the time the latter used his rifle. Both Capt. Moore and the negro were immediately arrested by Plainclothesmen Leon George and D. W. Coleman on charges of assault with deadly weapon. The other negro got away. Capt. Moore and the Jenkins negro arranged bail for appearance at trial before the Recorder tomorrow morning. Jenkins went to the hospital to have his wound dressed.

Information given to the police was to the effect that Capt. Moore had made him a seat on the wharf at Water and Market streets; that he came in his boat yesterday morning and found a negro boy occupying it; that when the negro refused to get up when he told him to he shoved him off. Then it was that Jenkins and another negro, whose name the police have not learned, began their attack upon Capt. Moore, who immediately retreated to his cabin on the steamer and secured his rifle, with which he shot the negro Jenkins.

Only a short time ago Miss Keith was awarded first prize for her art exhibit at the State Fair and it will be pleasing to know that she has decided to open an art class in Wilmington and will give lessons in pastel, water color, tapestry and oil painting. Any information will be given at her home on North Fourth street or by phoning to No. 760.

HE KNOWS HOW

The Greensboro Record says:—

"Judge Clark is getting down to hard pan in his canvass. He is now pointing out how freight discrimination can be remedied, promising that if he is sent to the Senate he will do his best on the job. We are here to bet that he 'knows how.' And if given the chance he will accomplish something, incidentally making life miserable for the railroads that have been practicing it."

This discrimination against North Carolna in freight rates robs our people of more than $10,000,000 annually. Judge Clark is not only pledged to do his best to remove this discrimination against North Carolina, but there are $5,000,000 annually, which North Carolina pays for pensions to the Federal soldiers and he proposes that the contribution to the pension fund shall be returned to each State to be disbursed by it in pensions for its own soldiers of the Civil War and their widows. He also urges that the 8 cents tax on tobacco be repealed, thus giving to every tobacco farmer 8 cents per pound additional which the tobacco buyer now pays to the government and thus compels the buyer at present to take off 8 cents from what he would otherwise pay the tobacco raiser. The tobacco farmers of North Carolina have $7,000,000 per year thus taken off the price of their tobacco for taxation. The above discriminations against North Carolina amount to $22,000,000 and neither Mr. Simmons nor Mr. Kitchin during their 12 years each in Congress have done anything nor have they yet proposed to do anything to relieve North Carolina of this terrific burden which has dwarfed the State more than everything else and prevented its progress on equal terms with the Northern States.

The subject for the afternoon, "Domestic Science in the Public Schools", was entered into with enthusiasm by the members present. Several articles of interest were read, showing how the work is successfully carried on in other towns and cities. This department hopes to soon see the Wilmington schools thoroughly equipped for this course, and it will continue its efforts to gain this end.

Chadbourn, N. C., Oct. 19.—Mrs. J. A. Brown was hostess to the Y. M. C. Tuesday afternoon from 3:30 to 6:30. Mrs. Brown's decorations were in keeping with the harvest and Autumn season, the colors being red, green and gold. In the dining room an artistic arrangement of vegetables and fruits formed an attractive centerpiece, and further decorations of fruits and flowers suggested the thought that nature had graciously tilted her cornucopia for the October Club meeting. After the literary programme delicious refreshments brought to a close a very happy meeting.

MRS. CREASY HONOR GUEST OF MRS. J. W. PATTERSON

The Greensboro Daily News has the following of social interest here:

Mrs. J. W. Patterson was the hostess yesterday afternoon at a most delightful reception given complimentary to her house guest, Mrs. W. M. Creasy, of Wilmington. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Patterson, on Beallmeade street, was tastefully arranged, the decorations which were effectively carried out throughout the entire house, forming an ideal scene for the delightful event.

On their arrival the guests were received by Mesdames G. W. Patterson and R. I. Justice, little Miss Margaret Ray Patterson and Master "Billy" Hill taking care of the cards. In the front parlor, where through the lavish use of roses and ferns the color scheme of pink and green was carried out, Mrs. Creasy, Mrs. J. W. Patterson, Mrs. H. D. Blake, Mrs. Roland Hill and Mrs. D. H. Kochtitzky composed the receiving line. At the dining room door Mrs. L. B. Jeter was stationed while within the guests were received by Misses Alma Sparger, Margaret Armstrong, Muriel Joyner and Mrs. H. B. Tatum. In the dining room yellow dahlias and ferns formed a pretty scheme of decorations. In the rear hall were Mrs. Fred Sparger and Miss Ada Roberts, while in the libarry Mrs. G. W. Whitsett and Mrs. R. N. Hadley received. Red dahlias and ferns were the principal components of an effective scheme of decorations used in the hall and libarry. Misses Mary Callum and Marguerite Halladay served delightful fruit punch.

In the dining room the guests were served a delicious salad course and the afternoon was heartily enjoyed by the more than four score of ladies accepting Mrs. Patterson's hospitality during the afternoon.

BOOK SHOWER IS GIVEN AT CHADBOURN, N. C.

Chadbourn, N. C., Oct. 19.—Sir Walter Besant said: "The Public Library is an adult school; it is a perpetual and life-long continuation class; it is the greatest educational factor that we have." Agreeing with this sentiment and recognizing the essential importance of the Library in connection with the public schools, the Woman's Betterment Association, the Young Matron's Club and the faculty and superintendent of the Chadbourn High School have labored faithfully since the beginning of the Fall term to replace on a larger scale the library lost in the fire over a year ago. Their efforts culminated in a unique "Book Shower" on Tuesday evening last, when the recently furnished library room of our handsome new building was formally opened for the reception of patrons and friends. Over two hundred people called during the evening, each bringing "a book or the price of a book."

Supt. Bowling welcomed the visitors in the hall while in the library to the right, Misses Sergeant, Lucas and Thomas received.

On entering the room a neat oak bookcase, containing a $45 set of carefully-selected books from the State Library list arrested the attention. The funds for this were secured largely by private donation and through the tireless efforts of Miss Fannie Wood, teacher of the third grade. Next was a shelf containing the Encyclopedia Britannica in 25 substantially-bound volumes, generously donated by Mr. J. T. Newland. On another side of the room was a case containing 44 volumes, the gift of the Young Matron's Club. The library was further furnished with 10 chairs, six pictures, neatly framed and a library table. Here the 120 books brought by the guests were showered and also something over $10 in the "coin of the realm." From the libarry the guests were directed by Miss Marion Coultas to the auditorium on the second floor, where Misses Wood and Hodges extended a welcome. Here a short musical programme was given under the direction of Miss Mattie Burwell, whose success with the Music Department this year is highly gratifying.

The guests were then conducted through "The Hall of Fame," containing silhouettes of the school patrons. These were unusually good likenesses and were correctly named by several contestants. In the draw the prize, an attractive picture went to little Miss Lena McDonald. Ice cream was served by the High School girls and another $5 added to the book fund.

As a result of a six weeks' active campaign the school has a neatly-furnished library with something over 300 volumes on its shelves and $15 in cash with which to purchase a supplementary library. This beginning is gratifying indeed, and one is constrained to quote,

"Who hath a book,
Should thank the Lord
Because he may
A Book afford.
And in his prayer
This clause is due
Lord bless the men
Who write books, too."

ENGAGEMENT MISS MOORE TO MR. LESTER TOWNSEND

Warsaw, N. C., Oct. 19.—Miss Sallie Hill entertained at her beautiful home here this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock, announcing the engagement of May C. Moore to Mr. Lester B. Townsend, of Lumberton, the marriage to take place October 30th.

The guests were received at the door by Miss Fannie Powers, and ushered to the back parlor, where Miss Helen Fonveille gracefully presided over the punch bowl. Miss Hill and Miss Moore received in the front parlor. There the guests engaged in a "Menu" contest, and the prize was won by Miss Powers, which Mrs. H. Faison Peirce in a few very appropriate words and some well-chosen "Leap Year Hints," delivered to the winner, and Miss Powers in turn presented it to the guest of honor.

After the contest the guests repaired to the dining room where a delightful three-course luncheon was served, and during the last course, little Sallie Faison Best, attired as a little messenger, ran in and delivered to each guest a telegram tied with yellow and green ribbons (the color scheme) which proved to be a proclamation, and read as follows:

"KNOW YE ALL, Whereas, Lester, son of Neill, of the house of Townsend, and May C., daughter of Thomas, of the house of Moore, having reached years of discretion and understanding, seek admission into the State of Matrimony.

"I, Daniel Cupid, Governor of said State, hereby proclaim them candidates for such admission, on October 30th, 1912.

"Written under my hand and seal, on this the 14th day of October, 1912, Daniel Cupid."

Miss Moore is the youngest sister of Mr. B. C. and Dr. Will Houston Moore, of Wilmington, and a daughter of the late Thomas Moore, of this place, and is a member of one of Duplin's oldest and best known families. Mr. Townsend holds a prominent position in the Frist National Bank at Lumberton, where he is well and favorably known, and is a native of Robeson county.

TWO IMPORTANT REALTY DEALS

Nearly 60 Acres Near Highwood Park Sold to Mr. H. F. Wilder, as Trustee—Corner Third and Market Sold

The real estate market has been quite active during the past week and two more important deals were consummated yesterday, the two involving about $33,000. Sixty acres of land on the Wrightsville turnpike, near Highwood Park, were sold to Mr. H. F. Wilder, as trustee, and the valuable property at the northwest corner of Third and Market streets was sold by the owner, Mr. R. H. Northrop, but the name of the purchaser has not yet been given out.

The suburban property is at the junction of Wrightsville turnpike and Harnett avenue and is just across the turnpike from Highwood Park. Harnett avenue was recently accepted by the County Commissioners as a public road and will be improved in a short time. The deal was put over by Mr. J. J. Loughlin, the hustling real estate man, connected with the live agency of the A. W. Pate Company. The property embraces two tracts of about 30 acres each. One belonged to Col. Walker Taylor and the other to C. C. Chadbourn. The two tracts cost about $15,000. It is understood that Mr. Wilder, as trustee, has a number of associates in the purchase of the property and it is their purpose to divide it into lots and place it on the market in the near future. Considerable improvements are to be made before the lots are offered for sale. The property is located in a section that is rapidly developing and a number of handsome new residences are being erected thereby.

The valuable lot at the northwest corner of Third and Market streets, has been sold by Mr. R. H. Northrop for a consideration in the neighborhood of $18,000. Several persons have been after the property during the past few days. The name of the purchaser has not yet become known, he having requested that he be not connected with the transaction for the present. The occupants of the building have a lease on it for another year. Whether the purchaser acquired the property as an investment or for the purpose of improving it, was not learned.

BANK OF LORIS

Mr. Thos. E. Cooper Resigns as President of the Institution

(Loris, S. C., News.)

At a recent meeting of the board of directors of the Bank of Loris, Mr. Thomas E. Cooper, president, resigned on account of his active duties with the American National Bank, of Wilmington, N. C. This institution has grown to such an extent that he found it impossible to give his active time to the Bank of Loris. P. S. Cooper, president of the First National Bank, Dunn, N. C., and a very successful financier, was elected to the presidency to succeed Thomas E. Cooper. Thomas E. Cooper was elected an inactive vice president. The efficient cashier, Mr. E. L. Sanderson, still remains the active manager of the bank and will be assisted by Mr. Madison H. Varn as assistant cashier. Mr. Varn comes to the Bank of Loris highly recommended, he having graduated at the South Carolina Military Academy in Charleston during the past Summer.

The Bank of Loris now has assets of over $100,000, with only a capital of $10,000. The surplus and profits account now exceeds $5,000, not taking into consideration that the bank is now on an annual dividend paying basis of 8 per cent.

Wright SELLS LOTS

Keep posted on values and continually studies the opportunities for good investment. Our judgment has not failed up to date, and the many thousands who have bought Wilmington property on our recommendation have every one made money.

The corner of Third and Market is not now for sale.

On our list are other good opportunities. Notably among which is a corner lot on Market street. The Council must improve this street—the entire city wants it. Market street is not a local street but the outlet for every citizen who owns a vehicle, automobile or wants to show the city to our thousands and thousands of visitors.

This lot now can be bought at the unimproved price. Look into this.

Then we have a cottage at a reasonable price, less than $2,000 and worth it. Five hundred dollars is all the cash payment required.

Winoca Terrace will soon be offered the homeseeker. Beautiful, accessible, city advantages and on easy terms. Large sums of real cash has been spent to make this a finished property—ready for the home. Look at it. 1,500 trees and shrubbery has been ordered, and as soon as weather permits, will be planted.

No part of Wilmington will be healthier or more beautiful than Winoca.

A visit to our office will be appreciated. It will probably be worth much money to you.

FUSES SENT BY MAIL.

Government Charges They Were Used in Akron, O., Explosion.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 19.—The delivery through the mail of a package which the government charges contained fuses used to blow up a building at Akron, Ohio, on July 4th, 1910, was described by R. C. Floyd, postmaster at Cleveland, O., on the stand as a witness in the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today. He testified as to its delivery.

According to the government, Herbert S. Hockin and McManigal had taken to Cleveland from Rochester, Pa., on a passenger train, a quantity of nitro-glycerine to carry out orders from J. J. McNamara that "there must be a fourth of July celebration at Akron." McManigal in his confession said he had been selected to do the work, but that Smith and George "Nipper" Anderson, also a defendant, protested, saying they had promised the "fee" of $200 for doing it to some one else. It was discovered, said McManigal's confession, "that only McManigal knew how to use nitro-glycerine, so it was determined to use dynamite, but that there being no fuse, McManigal was sent to Chicago to forward fuse from his home.

The package arrived in Cleveland on July 4th, Mr. Floyd testified. An explosion in a building under construction by an employer of non-union labor occurred in Akron on the same day, but the damage was slight.

More financial accounts taken from McNamara's office in the iron workers' headquarters in Indianapolis, which the government charges show a conspiracy on the part of the 45 defendants to give financial support to the "dynamiting campaign", were identified by Miss Mary Dye, former bookkeeper for McNamara. Miss Dye identified checks issued to Frank C. Webb, New York, and signed by President Frank M. Ryan, with the notation, "charge as a donation to local union, $200 expense for organizing purposes, by order of the executive board."

Other checks issued to Hockin when he is alleged to have paid money to McManigal, were identified.

AT THE ACADEMY.

"The Winning Widow" Gave Fine Satisfaction Last Night.

With Lovey—and it could be lovely—Marie Green in the title role, backed by an unusually capable cast, "The Winning Widow" played to two large audiences at the Academy of Music yesterday, matinee and night, easily retaining the entirely favorable opinion won on its initial appearance here last year. The show could hardly be termed a musical comedy, but it is a comedy of the first water, with enough music scattered through it to add a needed touch of melody just at the right time. Lovey Marie sang and danced her way into the hearts of both audiences—or at least the male portions. Possessed of a figure superb, more than passable beauty, a fair voice and an exceedingly winsome stage personality, she carried off her part strikingly in every instance. The Clayton sisters and Miss Flo Gillespie also contributed largely to the success of the production. Mul Clark, as Hinie Schmidt, the chese magnate, and Ben Turbett, as the Corn Beef King, cleverly handled the comedy roles, their work being far ahead of the usual "comedy" effort seen with traveling troupes. The chorus, if lacking somewhat in voices, left nothing to be desired in the way of good figures. As for the costumes, they were unusually beautiful—that is what there was of them, for they were generously abbreviated at times.

Broadly speaking, "The Winning Widow," is one of the most entertaining productions that has visited Wilmington for several seasons.

Heavy Damages Are Sought

Suit was instituted in Superior Court yesterday by Easter Myers, colored, administratrix of Simon Myers, against the Navassa Guano Company. It is an action for $20,000 alleged damages for fatal injuries received by Simon Myers while at work in the defendant's plant early in the year. L. Clayton Grant, Esq., and ex-Judge E. K. Bryan represent the plaintiff.

Will Wilson Win?

The answer to this question is "Not Yet," and it may be "Yes" or "No." The political battle will not be over until the end of election day. What happens between today and the end of that day will decide the controversy.

President Taft has just had the benefit of the largest Naval display ever seen in this country, which was witnessed by millions of people, and paid for by the Nation to the extent of more than a million dollars.

The Progressive Party, and particularly Colonel Roosevelt, are getting the benefit of a dastardly assault, and also of great enthusiasm, coupled with extraordinary daily contributions of money collected from the rank and file of that party, and their battle is being concentrated on the State of New York. The New York Herald's last poll showed that Wilson had a plurality in the State out of more than 8,000 votes canvassed of less than 800. Do you believe that Wilson can win in New York if Roosevelt comes into that State for a final struggle with bands and banners, and unlimited funds, if the Democratic hosts are badly equipped for the contest? If so, you believe that an untrained youth of sixteen years can beat a champion prize fighter.

The National Democratic Committee are in urgent need of funds. The total of receipts thus far would not enable them to spend more than 5c. on each of the fifteen million voters of this country. Do you believe that this is sufficient to win against the party which can raise five times that amount?

The Contributors' National Wilson and Marshall League, of which Hon. William G. McAdoo is President, is organized for the purpose of raising funds by popular subscription for the National Democratic Ticket. Certificates, handsomely engraved, bearing pictures of Wilson and Marshall, are issued to the subscribers, and the amounts requested in North Carolina range from $1.00 to $5.00. The League has been in successful operation throughout the United States, but no special appeal has been made by it heretofore to the people of this State. Will you become one of its members by contributing a small amount? Your name and address, with the amount contributed will be filed in the Headquarters of the National Democratic Committee, and if Wilson wins you will be glad to have been one of those who gave him practical help. It may be you have already contributed a dollar or more, but perhaps you can give another dollar. Two Virginians, to whom the appeal for funds in North Carolina was made known, instantly subscribed to this fund, though they had previously given in Virginia. Will you do as much?

Will you give one dollar to five dollars to make the election of Wilson and Marshall sure?
The work of the League has the cordial endorsement of Mr. Wilson himself, as the following letter shows:

WOODROW WILSON
Sea Girt, N. J.

Dear Mr. McAdoo:

To bring about the election of a President through a campaign financed by popular subscriptions, would be a distinct and gratifying triumph. It would strikingly evidence the renewed supremacy of the people and would mean the permanent emancipation of our government from those selfish influences which have too long been relied upon to furnish the campaign funds in return for favors to be bestowed. I am in hearty sympathy with every effort that may contribute to such a result. The idea back of the proposed Contributors' National Wilson and Marshall League is thoroughly commendable and I hope that you and your associates will push it, and make it an effective instrument for the attainment of so praiseworthy an object.

Cordially and sincerely yours,

WOODROW WILSON.

Mr. W. G. McAdoo,
New York City.

Please answer in person, or by mail, to the undersigned, at any time within the next ten days, to the Selwyn Hotel, Charlotte, N. C.

WILLIS BRUCE DOWD,
Executive Member for North Carolina,
Contributors' National Wilson and Marshall League.

COTTON LOSES HALF OF GAIN

Liquidation for Over the Week-end And Renewal of Local Pressure Responsible for Setback— Close 8 to 15 Off

New York, Oct. 19.—The cotton market lost a little more than half of yesterday's advance during today's trading under liquidation for over the week-end and a renewal of local pressure, inspired by better weather conditions in the South and expectations of heavy hedge selling next week. The close was barely steady and from 8 to 5 points net lower. The market opened barely steady at an advance of three points on October, but generally 1 to 4 points lower and sold 9 to 10 points net lower right after the call under lower cables than expected, the failure of the weather may to show any signs of the predicted frosts in the Western belt and a bearish opinion of the week-end figures. There were overnight buyers around the ring, as well as some support from leading spot people and prices rallied 3 or 4 points from the lowest during the middle of the morning. Aggressive buying was lacking, however, and with the Western belt forecast for fair and warmer weather over Sunday, the market soon turned easier under Southern selling, local pressure and continued realizing by recent buyers, who may have been influenced by predictions that there would be heavy offerings here Monday against today's wagon receipts in the Western belt. Prices reached the lowest level of the day in the late trading when houses with continental connections were active sellers, and the close was at practically the bottom.

Spot closed quiet. Middling uplands, 10.96; do. gulf, 11.15; sales, none.

Futures closed barely steady.

TRADING IN STOCKS LIGHT

Yesterday's Market Little More Than a Repetition of Preceding Days. Movement Converged Around the Industrials.

New York, Oct. 19.—In a smaller way today's stock market was little more than a repetition of the days immediately preceding. Trading was again comparatively light and the movement continued to converge around the industrials and specialties.

Substantial gains were scored in the early dealings by such issues as the Fertilizers, American Locomotive and People's Gas. Almost the only representative or standard stock to display more than moderate strength, was Union Pacific, which recorded its best price of the week. Extreme dullness set in before the irregular close, the monotony of the movement being broken by a sharp advance in Chino-Copper issues.

Market conditions abroad were no less dull than here, but money was in better demand.

The bank statement revealed an actual cash gain of practically $1,900,000, which came close to the general estimates, while loans increased $12,425,000, and the reserves fell away $1,158,500. The "average" statement was in all essentials radically different from "actual" conditions, showing not only a moderate decrease in loans, but a very large cash gain and a substantial increase of reserves.

Bonds moved rather irregular in the course of the day, following the trend of stocks. Total sales, par value, $1,025,000. United States government bonds unchanged on call during the week. Total sales stocks today 258,500 shares.

uncompromising rule of his wife was all that kept Col. Roosevelt in an approximately calm condition today. With the time of his departure for New York decided and with the assurance of his physicians that he was just about out of danger, the colonel chafed at all restraints and sniffed at the crisp Autumn air from his window as eagerly as a boy who is kept in after school. It was the last day but one of his stay in the hospital—with the provision that no complications arise—and in the colonel's room and the big corridor outside it was quiet as a Sunday afternoon.

The physicians permitted Col. Roosevelt to sit in his easy chair, wrapped in a bath robe for several hours today. He saw a few visitors, replied to some of the telegrams of congratulation and passed the remainder of the day in reading and talking with Mrs. Roosevelt. Throughout the day his condition was virtually normal. His physicians visited him as regularly as before and had no changes to report, so some of the usual bulletins were omitted.

It was decided with as much definiteness as is possible under the circumstances that Col. Roosevelt shall deliver one speech toward the close of the campaign. It will be in Madison Square Garden, New York on October 3rd. The colonel was told that if he would exercise prudence in the meantime he would be in condition to make the speech. Whether he makes it depends almost entirely upon the condition of his broken rib, which is his chief source of trouble now.

He was told that he must keep as quiet as possible so that the rib's ends may knit together and if he does not heed the warning he may find himself unable to take any part in the campaign. The colonel sighed, and said he would try.

Whether Col. Roosevelt will be able to make more than one speech the physicians could not say. He is anxious to deliver an address in Massachusetts, at least one in Pennsylvania and another in some point in New York, in addition to the speech to be delivered in Madison Square Garden.

It is unlikely that he will be able to undertake such a task.

Col. Roosevelt today made clear, for the purpose of publication, his attitude on the industrial commission with which he proposes the trust situation shall be controlled in America.

His announcement was in reply to writhgs of Louis Brandeis and a speech of Governor Wilson, in which Col. Roosevelt is accused of endeavoring to legalize monopoly by a commission, "which would have police power to say to a favored corporation, 'You are legal', and to an unfavored corporation, 'You are illegal'."

"This absolutely is not my position," said Col. Roosevelt. "In fact, it is as near the antithesis of my position as any declaration well could be."

Mr. Heney brought the statement from the colonel's room, quoting the Progressive candidate in part as follows: "I explained in part my position in my Milwaukee speech, when I said in effect that the idea I had was that there be passed new laws or that the Sherman anti-trust law should be amended in such a way that there would be a definition of what was wrong, eliminating the 'rule of reason' feature.

"If, for instance, a corporation should be found crushing out competition by refusing to sell when the patron bought of competitors or by underselling in districts, or in the dozen of other ways that Congress should learn were being practiced and should say were illegal, I would have the statute say point blank, with no loop hole for escape, that the corporation was guilty.

"I would have the commission enforce the law much as the Inter-State Commerce Commission enforces the railroad rate and rebate laws."

Mr. Heney said Col. Roosevelt declared: "The railroad commission by its power to do things, I suggest, for the industrial commission practically has eliminated rebating and other ills of railroading. The commission would have as wholesome effect on corporations."

Mustapha Pasha and as a result they were soon compelled to desert. As they retreated they blew up the railway bridge over the river Maritza, cutting off communication with Adrianople.

The noted Macedonian leader, Sandusky, it is reported from Dubnitz, has assembled 3,000 peasants of the mountainous district of Perim, near the Bulgarian border and armed them with modern rifles.

The Bulgarians have taken the town of Mahomia, in the Razlog district, at the point of the bayonet, and have captured the small towns of Tsarevoselo, Garnia and Djuma. Other columns have penetrated through the passes of the Rhodope mountains and marched across the frontier into Turkish territory.

The advance of the Bulgarian troops on Mustapha Pasha was watched by King Ferdinand, several princes and Gen. Savoff, the Bulgarian commander-in-chief, from a height of Carmaly Belitza, on the frontier.

There was considerable fighting and after the battle King Ferdinand visited the troops and decorated many of the wounded men.

Servian Army Crosses Border.

Belgrade, Servia, Oct. 19.—The general staff reports at 7 o'clock tonight that the Servian army has crossed the border and is engaged in operations in Turkish territory. Important developments are expected immediately, although cold and rain are hampering the movements of the troops.

New York, Oct. 19.—The statement of actual condition of the clearing house banks and trust companies for the week shows that they hold $9,048,950 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is a decrease of $1,156,500 from last week.

Can we say that a man is a close friend when he refuses to lend us a quarter?

A Penny and a Five-Dollar Gold Piece

Bear a distinct family resemblance in size, if not in relation of quality. Consequently if the gold piece is kept in close association with pennies it is likely to share the fate of being taken for one, or rather GIVEN for one, as happened not long ago with a friend of ours.

The lady paid the milkman, as she thought, fifteen cents, but in reality handed him fourteen pennies and the little gold piece, not discovering her error until the following day.

The American National Bank
——of Wilmington.——

will pay YOU 4 per cent. Compound interest on both your gold pieces and pennies. Give them .

GREAT EAST CAROLINA FAIR

Newbern Planning Big Things for Next Week—Splendid Exhibit and Many Other Attractive Features of Week.

Newbern, N. C., Ot. 19.—"The American people love to be humbugged." This statement was made by the greatest show man on earth a number of years ago. For a number of years this expression held true, but within reent years the Amerian people have begun to demand that they get a square deal from those who separate them from their hard-earned money.

Reently there was advertised that there would be a fair in a certain town in Eastern North Carolina. The fair was a gigantic failure. As secretary of the Eastern Carolina Fair Association at Newbern, I visited the fair referred to above and all I discovered there was a sandy race track, a shed that could not be called by the dignity of the name a grandstand, and a few shows on the "Midway" that was standing idle.

I mentioned these things to show what a hard proposition an organization has to go up against who desires to have a legitimate proposition when some one has fooled the public time and time again by advertising something that they cannot and will not produce.

At the outset, I want to make a broad statement and that is that the fair grounds of the Eastern Carolina Fair Association Company at Newbern, N. C., is today the most beautiful and best located fair grounds in North Carolina. This sounds like hot air to the men who do not know the spirit with which Newbern tackles a proposition. Those who visited the Bi-Centennial know that it was the greatest event of its kind ever pulled off in North Carolina.

Those who attended the Elks' convention, the Shriners' convention, and other conventions at Newbern know that Newbern never does things by halves.

The fair grounds is situated at a beautiful spot on the Neuse river, known as the Oaks Farm. The Association owns 100 acres of land, 30 of which is now enclosed in the fair grounds and 70 of which extends along the Neuse river and is considered one of the most beautiful natural parks in the country.

As one enters the fair grounds they discover at the left the most magnificent exhibit building ever erected in North Carolina. This building is 200x 60 feet and will be used as the exhibit hall for all departments, except the poultry, stock and machinery.

The poultry building is 32x96 feet and contains 192 coops, 3x4 feet.

The swine building is 24x150 feet and contains 50 pens 6x6 feet.

There are 46 cattle sheds, 8x10 feet.

There are 30 stables for the race horses, 10x10 feet.

The grandstand is the most beautiful and comfortable ever erected in North Carolina. The race track is an oval standard one-half mile track.

The association has built two magnificent buildings and have placed them in charge of the ladies of Newbern. The first building is known as the "Woman's Building", and will be in charge of the Woman's Club, who will furnish the same, which will be used as a rest room for all ladies who visit the fair. The other building will be in charge of the City Beautiful Club who will sell all kinds of good things to eat. The money made by the City Beautiful Club in this manner will be used to carry on the magnificent work it has done during the last year in beautifying the city.

Tuesday, October 29th, will be "Military Day", the parade will form down town and will proceed to the fair grounds where the fair will be formally opened by a spech by one of our prominent North Carolinians. The militia and naval reserves from all sections of Eastern North Carolina will not only take part in this parade, but will have a competitive drill in front of the grand stand and will then have a sham battle in the center of the race course.

Wednesday, October 30th, will be "Educational Day." Every school child in Eastern North Carolina will be given a ticket which will allow them free admission to the fair grounds this day. These tickets will be distributed to the children through the various schools. There will be all kinds of games in front of the grand stand that will be of great interest to the children as well as the spectators in the grandstand.

Thursday, October 31st, will be the "Big Day". There will be an automobile parade in the morning. All automobiles will be decorated. At 12 o'clock at the fair grounds will take place the Horse Show, and at 2:30 there will be a football game between Newbern and A. & M. College second team.

There will be horse racing and motorcycle racing every day during the fair. Frank Champion, the aviator of international reputation, will fly twice every day in his monoplane. J. E. Hardy, the high wire king, will perform twice daily on top of the tight wire 50 feet from the ground. The Cycling Herberts will do their wonderful, amusing cycle act. There will be at least three other more free attractions. The music on all occasions will be furnished by the famous Passoris Italian Band from Philadelphia. The Fair Ball and the Marshalls' Ball will take place on Wednesday night, on October 30th, and Friday night, November 1st. The Passoris Italian Band will give a concert at the Opera House on Thursday night, October 31st. The above programme is the best that has ever been offered the public in Eastern North Carolina.

The railroads are all offering special rates, so be sure to be on hand.

DONATING NEWSPAPER SPACE.

Giving Away That Which He Must Sell to Live Brings Publisher Abuse.

The Milwaukee Free Press publishes the following editorial concerning the giving away of newspaper space, and it just about coincides with the situation in a good many towns and cities besides Milwaukee. The Free Press says:

"Advertising publicity is what a newspaper has to sell. It is as much a commodity marked with a price as the wares in a dry goods store. Yet thousands of citizens who would not think of asking a merchant to give them so much as a necktie, have no compunction in asking that advertisements be given them by a newspaper. The thought does not even enter their heads that every inch of space so given, in addition to providing them with the most profitable service, actually costs the newspaper in editorial labor in composition, in metal, in ink, in stereotyping, in printing, etc., a very definite sum of money.

"The Free Press, like every other Milwaukee paper, is liberal in giving of its space to further the cause of philanthropic, public and other institutions, enterprises and causes where the object is non-commercial and conducive to the public welfare.

"In return, it expects only appreciation—appreciation of the fact that the press is giving its most costly commodity, a service so valuable that the beneficiaries could not afford to buy it, and without which their institution, enterprise or cause could not exist, a service which always is made at a sacrifice to the news columns and at an actual expense.

"It expects recognition of the fact that while halls, theatres and other public places, bill posters and all the other service enlisted in these causes demand compensation with but few exceptions, it is the newspaper that gives its wares free for the sake of public good.

"Yet in the vast majority of cases, this generous service is blissfully taken for granted, and the paper's liberality abused. That which is purely a favor is accepted as a matter of course, and what would be requests are couched as demands.

"When the courtesy has been performed there is rarely appreciation, and more often dissatisfaction—generally silence.

"The result in many other cities has been that a price has been put upon every kind of publicity, no matter what its object — even upon the church notice. In those cities, we warrant, such favors as the press bestows are properly valued."

FARM BOOKKEEPING

Interesting Facts and Information About the Proper Accounting

Farmers' Bulletin 511 of the Department of Agriculture contains some interesting facts and recommendations in connection with bookkeeping on the farm. "That there are over six million farms in the country which utilize land, labor, and capital as means of income making" gives the author, the opportunity to discuss the subject of the value of the farmer keeping an accurate and systematic account of his farm management the same as the business man or the railroad magnate.

This bulletin is not an attempt to outline a system of bookkeeping for the farmer. It is rather a discussion of the principles which are applicable to accounts on the farm. It is believed that any farmer who studies this bulletin sufficiently to grasp these principles will be able to devise a system suited to his particular needs.

Two important points must be considered in an attempt at farm bookkeeping. What does it cost to produce farm products? By selling at market prices, what profit is made on them?

"The problem of the farmer is to meet conditions on his own farm in a way which will give him the greatest net returns for his labor and the use of his capital. He should receive interest on his capital as well as wages for his labor, but owing to the lack of proper records few farmers know what wages they actually receive. There is reason to believe that the majority of farmers are really living on the interest of their investments rather than on the profits of their farms."

These suggestions are offered.

(1) Consider as one unit all that may be termed real estate, as land, farm buildings, fences, ditches, etc., whether the farm is rented or owned by the operator.

(2) Do not consider that the farmer or his family receive anything for their labor unless they are paid in cash the same as hired labor. If there is a surplus at the end of the year, it is their compensation. In this way the accounts will not be confused with items not strictly cash.

(3) Farm products used by the household should not be credited to the farm in the cash account along with the products sold, but should be taken care of separately."

THRONE OF KING COTTON

Detroit Free Press Extends Congratulations to the South

The following from The Detroit Free Press, under the caption, "The Throne of King Cotton now in the South," will be of interest, not only by reason of the facts contained therein but also by reason of the point of issue:

"One of the epoch-making industrial developments of the last year has been the achievement of the Southern States in passing the North in the manufacture of cotton goods.

"There was a long period during which as though by common consent the growth of cotton was left to the South and its manufacture to the North. It was this generally understood policy that built up cities like Lawrence, New Bedford, Manchester and Fall River. But a short time before the outbreak of the Civil War some attempt was made in the slave States to encroach on the Northern prerogative. The effort was unsuccessful largely because negro labor was not effective when placed in front of a spindle, and it was not until a decade and a half after the close of the war that Southern capital tried again and with the aid of modern machinery and by careful education of colored labor succeeded in gaining a foothold. The nearness of the source of supply of the raw material of course, gave the South a big natural advantage. Statistics show that in the course of the year ending August 31st last, the cotton-raising States used in their manufacturing plants 2,700,000 bales and the States outside the belt 2,650,000 bales.

"The growth of the cotton industry in Dixie calls for congratulations all around. There is no good reason why any one should be jealous, for with the opening of the Panama canal and the development of trade in South America and in the Far East there will be ample market for all the manufactured cotton that can possibly be turned out by both Northern and Southern mills."

COAL PRICES ADVANCE

Both Hard and Soft Varieties Becoming Higher and Higher

Soft coal is up 35 cents over the quotations given the first of the month and hard coal, nut size, is up 15 cents and the stove size is up 25 cents from those quoted October 1st. These figures had advanced just prior to the first of the month and hence the present increase is a very substantial one. All shipment blanks now bear the following notice to dealers: "Please limit your sales to actual wants of customers to January 1st." This warning will give some idea of the feeling that exists among the big coal operators.

The advance since the first of October is unprecedented in recent years. Heretofore the increases have all come before this time and the figures have remained stationary after the Fall begun. This year the prices have been advancing before October 1st and afterwards as well. There is now no estimating when or where the advances will stop in view of the fact that the mine owners are having trouble in getting the coal out of the ground and then the operators are having difficulty in getting cars for shipment.

The cheery advertisements of Chairman Hilles now running in the high-priced periodicals are delightful. "What's the matter with you, anyhow, aren't you still alive," is the gist of Mr. Hilles' ingenuous appeals to the people to keep on "standing pat." "Let well enough alone," says Mr. Hilles, in effect. "Hoorah for the full dinner pail and the Grand Old Party." Old stuff, Brother Hilles.

BRANDEIS ON GOV. WILSON

Noted Republican Lawyer and Supporter of LaFollette, Tells Why Democratic Nominee Should be Elected.

(By Louis D. Brandeis.)

New York, Oct. 19.—Governor Wilson possesses the qualities essential for a great progressive President. He is courageous and straightforward; he is able and firm and sound of judgment. He is patient and open-minded. He is thoroughly democratic in spirit. He recognizes that all of the people are entitled to equal opportunities; and he appreciates that the development of all of the people is essential to the fulfilment of our American ideals. He understands the dangers incident to the control by a few men of our industries and of our finance. He sees that true democracy and social and industrial justice are unattainable, unless this power of the few be curbed, and our democracy becomes industrial as well as political. He can meet the demands properly made upon a present-day executive, to lead in constructive statesmanship, as well as to administer efficiently. And his character, intellectual power, and previous training fit him peculiarly to take an important part in progressive legislation.

In the progressive movement there are three necessary periods. The first is investigation; the second, agitation; the third, legislation. They are, in the main, successive periods, but each overlaps the other to a certain extent. The work of investigation and of agitation have been largely performed. Men of insight have discerned and disclosed the evils existing in our industrial, social and political institutions; and the danger to the common weal. Men of courage and of emotion, endowed with the dramatic qualities of the great preacher, have pierced even that armor of smug complaisancy with which prosperity is apt to envelop the heart and head. The somnolent have been aroused; the indifferent have been fired with enthusiasm; the timid have at last learned to fear the evil more than they fear the evid-doer. The eve of victory has come.

A large majority of the American people recognize that grave abuses exist and are anxious to put an end to them. We progressives are now sufficient in number to compel the adoption of remedies. But the most difficult task is before us—that of devising the appropriate remedies and determining how they may be best applied. For this we need, as President a man with the qualities rather of the constructive statesman, than of the warrior. We need a mind that grows rather than leaps into things progressive. We need deep sympathy for the common people, and that absolute respect for them and for the truth which made it impossible for Lincoln to attempt to deceive men even for their own benefit. We need, in addition to the manly virtues and a quick intelligence, that student quality of diligent, patient inquiry; that true open-mindedness, which makes one willing to listen, as well as to speak, and that calm, careful, hard thinking which is essential to sound judgment on legislation, by which it is proposed to make important changes in our social, industrial or political institutions. We need the will to labor, as well as the power to achieve.

These are the qualities essential to a safe and effective leader of the progressive movement in its present stage; and these qualities Governor Wilson possesses in a preeminent degree. His longing for the attainment of Democratic ideals, as well as his ability to achieve, found expression in those well considered laws, which, as Cornelius Ford, president of the New Jersey Federation of Labor, declared, obtained for the people of New Jersey "in the first 90 days of his administration more beneficial legislation than had been passed in the preceding nine years." His Democratic instinct made him revolt at the domination of wealth, even when clothed in the refined and cultured traditions of his own university. And his strength and high purpose were exhibited, when with calm determination, he rose superior to the bosses, local and National. There is nothing in his present affiliations, or his past relations which requires explanation or extenuation. He would not resort to unworthy means even to advance most worthy ends. He was nominated by the people in spite of the bosses and in spite of every effort of the vested interests to prevent his selection. His campaign is being conducted so as to avert the possibility of entangling alliances. He stands now—and would stand as President—pledged only to the American people.

The progressive movement requires, however, for success not only a leader, but followers; and not only followers at polls, but co-operation in Congress. Progressive measures cannot be enacted unless a majority of the House and Senate are in accord with the President. As Governor Wilson truly said:

"Politics now, at last, is intensely practical and real. We cannot afford to wait another four years. The processes of reform in this country must take place within the next four years. If the leader of the third party is made President what will be his situation? Does anybody suppose he will have a third party Congress behind him? Is it not inevitable that in such an event there will be in Congress such a mixture of elements and groups and coteries that the President cannot possibly get any programme whatever put through."

Whatever may be the need of a new party in particular States, the cause of progress nationally and the whole progressive movement, will be most advanced by the election of Governor Wilson as President.

LIFE OF CROSS-TIES

How It May Be Prolonged—Department Bulletin Issued

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—The Department of Agriculture is about to issue Bulletin 118 of the Forest Service, on "Prolonging the Life of Cross-Ties." The bulletin says:

"The removal of bark hastens seasoning and permits uniform drying. Where an oil-like creosote is used as a preservative, the presence of bark on the ties may result in such greater penetration and absorption as to make the efficiency of the preservative practically zero.

"Ties peeled in Summer sometimes dry too rapidly and so "case-harden," which increases the difficulty of securing penetration of the preservative. The best time to peel ties, however, is an economic question which must be determined for each particular case. As a general rule, it is good practice to remove the bark as soon as possible after the ties are cut, and regulate the rate of seasoning by methods of piling. In this way, peeling will be easier, there will be less danger from insects, and seasoning will be more rapid.

"Of the three common methods of seasoning, namely, by air, by steam, and by oil, the first is best, if conditions will permit its use. Often, however, a treating plant is called upon to fill a rush order when its stock on hand is insufficiently seasoned for treatment, or the plant may be so located that it can not keep a large stock of air-seasoned material on hand. In such cases artificial seasoning must be practiced.

"Seasoning by steam is not as common today as it was a decade ago. Perhaps the chief reason for this is the better knowledge that now exists as to the cause of decay and the effect of steaming on the strength of wood. While steam seasoning increases the weight of ties and necessitates the drawing of a vacuum to get the sap and water out of them, seasoning in oil produces the opposite effect, since the ties constantly lose moisture while in the hot bath, and no vacuum is required. Tests made on 2-inch by 24-inch specimens showed that this method of drying is likely to cause internal checking."

Remember that most people eat too much and too often. When you don't know what to eat—eat nothing.

Saves Leg of Boy

"It seemed that my 14-year-old boy would have to lose his leg, on account of an ugly ulcer, caused by a bad bruise," wrote D. F. Howard, Aquone, N. C. "All remedies and doctors treatment failed till we tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and cured him with one box." Cures burns, boils, skin eruptions, piles. 25 cents at R. R. Bellamy's.

THE IMPORTANCE OF DUST

Avoid Floor Dust If You Would Avoid Tuberculosis

Did you know, that according to published reports, about one-third of the five thousand street cleaners in New York city are infected with tuberculosis? Previous to their employment by the city these men were all examined by civil service physicians and pronounced free from organic disease. It is claimed that five years' work as a street cleaner in New York makes the average individual a consumptive.

Of course, street sweepers labor under some of the very worst conditions. The dust they meet doubtless contains a large amount of dried sputum and all of that, but did it ever occur to you that it is part of this very same dust which every one carries on his shoes and clothing into houses, churches, and schoolhouses? Now, the point is simply this: If an excessive quantity of dust is so fatal, even smaller quantities are undesirable, and therefore the less dust the better.

One of the chief sources of dust is that resulting from the old-fashioned dry broom method of sweeping our floors, etc. The antiquated feather duster is another dust evil. By using some of the many forms of kerosened brooms, sweepers, mops and dust cloths now on the market, the amount of dust raised in sweeping and dusting, as compared with that raised by the old dry broom and feather duster, is reduced from 90 per cent to 99 per cent.

Dust is a three-fold factor in consumption. First, it acts as a predisposing cause. It is a direct physical irritant to the respiratory passages. By thus irritating or inflaming the mucus membranes it weakens their power to resist bacterial invasion.

Second, dust may carry infection directly by means of dried tubercular sputum recently discharged by some careless or ignorant consumptive.

Third, dust may aggravate an incipient or curable case of consumption and thus convert it into a rapid and virulent case, because of the added pus producing germs.

SQUELCH THE "MASHERS"

How They Are Disposed of In Texas—The Court

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 19.—Determined warfare is being made in San Antonio against would-be "mashers," one of them having been fined by the court recently in the sum of $200 and lacking the cash to liquidate was accepted by the county as its guest for 200 days. It is suggested by a Texas paper commenting on the size of the fine that the offender evidently was not fascinating enough to mesmerize the court. Evidence presented indicated he had been very bold in his addresses and this probably induced the court to make his punishment rather severe. No sympathy was heard expressed for him, public sentiment upholding the penalty as fitting the offense.

More than 800,000,000 pounds of sea fish were caught by Scotch fishermen last year.

UPRISING ENDED

Nicaraguan Revolutionists Defeated on Honduran Border

Washington, Oct. 12.—An uprising against the Honduran government started by participants in the Nicaraguan revolt, came to a sudden and bloody end before the expedition got out of Nicaragua. The refugees, 200 in number, under Jose Rafael Osorio, a Honduran, were overtaken by Nicaraguan government troops at Somotaillo as they approached the Honduran border. Forty were killed, many others, including the leader, were wounded. All gave up their arms and the entire mob was speedily dispersed.

Minister Weitzel, in reporting the affair to the State Department today, said the refugees who were bent upon starting a revolution against President Bonilla's government in Honduras, had fled from Leon when that city was turned over to the American forces. The complete failure of the movement against Honduras is believed not only to relieve the menace of another revolution in that country, but to mark the end of disturbances in Nicaragua.

Isn't it odd that the identical sewing machines which cost hardworking women $25 in this country should be sold in Mexico for $10 less? Perhaps if the tariff were taken off, American women might fare as well as Mexican women at the hands of the Sewing Machine Trust. It's worth trying, anyhow, don't you think? One of a thousand reasons why Wilson should be elected.

SCROFULOUS TROUBLES

No truth is more forcibly manifested in physical life than the old saying "like begets like;" for just as the offspring of healthy ancestry are blessed with pure, rich blood insuring good health, so the children of blood-tainted parentage inherit a polluted circulation which fosters a chain of scrofulous troubles. The usual sign of a scrofulous inheritance are swollen glands about the neck, weak eyes, pale, waxy complexions, sores and ulcers and general poor health. These symptoms are most often manifested in early life, though sometimes maturity is reached before the trouble breaks out. Treatment should be commenced at the first indication of Scrofula for it may get beyond control if allowed to run unchecked. S. S. S. is the very best treatment for Scrofula. It renovates the circulation and drives out all scrofulous matter and deposits. S. S. S. goes to the bottom of the trouble and removes the cause and cures the disease. Then it supplies the weak, blood with healthful properties. S. S. S. is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, and is an absolutely safe remedy for young or old. Book on the blood and medical advice free.

Every Day They're Buying Lots in SUNSET PARK

147 lots were sold at our Opening Sale.

Nearly 200 lots have NOW been sold.

Home-buyers and investors are just beginning to realize the opportunities SUNSET PARK offers them.

The Oct. 7th sale was merely the OPENING of our campaign for the sale of the WHOLE of SUNSET PARK.

The cost to this Company of the property and of the improvements we are making, PROHIBITS all possibility of profits to us until at least one-half the lots are sold.

The strongest point in favor of SUNSET PARK is that no other section tributary to Wilmington can possibly equal SUNSET PARK in sanitary conditions.

In SUNSET PARK there are no dense fogs hanging over the property, no stagnant water, no surface closets, no conditions of any kind that would endanger the health of the residents. This fact should be well heeded by all prospective buyers of sub-division property.

It should also be remembered that building operations are always more rapid and general where the improvements—water, sewerage, gas, electric lights, etc.—are ALREADY IN, than where the installation of these conveniences has to await the pleasure of the individual property owners, some of whom are intending home-builders while others are merely investors or speculators.

In SUNSET PARK the cost of ALL improvements are included in the price of the lots, and everybody PAYS for them and everybody GETS them—whether they intend to build or not.

Building operations will begin in SUNSET PARK at once. Mr. C. E. Greenamyer, president of this company, has had plans drawn and will immediately begin the erection of a $7,500 home. Among the others who have positively announced their purpose of building this Fall, we may mention: Messrs. B. H. Marshall, D. N. Chadwick, E. L. Lee, R. S. Motte, Jas. Howard, R. A. Wright, C. E. Bethea, L. W. Davis and C. C. Chadbourn, while the Fidelity Trust and Development Company will begin the construction of a number of handsome homes for subsequent sale. FIFTY OTHERS have stated their intention of building within a year.

STREET CAR SERVICE IS POSITIVELY ASSURED. Our original promise regarding this feature still continues. Don't have any doubts on this score!

Go out NOW and select your lot—they're variously priced to suit your requirements—and offered on terms to suit your convenience.

It is well worth your while to walk out Central Boulevard, and see the large number of beautiful lots on this boulevard which overlook a five-mile expanse of unparalleled river view.

Rugby Football Faces Scandal—South African Trade—Security of Aeroplanes Concerns Paris. Turkey Prison Life.

(By Associated Press.)

London, Oct. 19.—English Rugby football is faced with a scandal which may lead to a wider breach in the English Rugby Union as that which caused the formation of the Northern Union in the '90s.

Rugby is ostensibly a purely amateur game in England in distinction to the Association game which is played largely by professional teams.

Recently the Northern Union adherents invaded Devonshire and attempted to recruit players from the existing Rugby clubs. This campaign led to the exposure of the fact that many of the Devonshire players were receiving compensation for time lost from work in addition to their expenses while playing with their teams. This practice is open among the teams of the Northern Union, which has revised the Rugby rules until the form it plays is so strenuous that professional players are necessary for a successful team.

Some of the Devonshire players who have been suspended for negotiating with the Northern Union invaders state that the payment for lost time is general in the Rugby Union, and they declare that they will expose the system at the investigation which has been ordered by the governing committee of the Union.

The scandal comes at a particularly inopportune time, as the South African Springboks have just commenced a tour of the British Isles as the guests of the Rugby Union. England is particularly anxious to present an unbroken front to the invaders in order to wipe out the unbroken series of defeats which the last South African team inflicted on the English fifteens several years ago. During that tour the South Africans suffered only one reverse and that was at the hands of the Scottish Union. The present invaders declare that they will return home with a clean score and they are determined to show the Scots that their victory was a fluke.

British manufacturers are to be wakened from their lethargy in regard to the opportunities of trade in South Africa by Sir Sothern Holland, who has just arrived from that colony.

He is of opinion that they might learn some useful lessons from American manufacturers of tools for skilled workmen.

"These tools," he says, "sell readily in South Africa in spite of their price being higher, in many cases, than that of similar British tools. They are both well designed and well made."

To give British manufacturers a practical object lesson in the sort of foreign competition they meet in South Africa, the Board of Trade recently obtained, at considerable expense, a sample collection of foreign hardware and tools in general demand there. And American tools occupied a conspicuous place in the collection.

A Supreme Court of Appeal for the British Empire is probably shortly to be established. From speeches he has made recently it is believed that the Lord Chancellor is to introduce during the present session of Parliament a bill establishing a judicial committee of the Privy Council as the highest court to which may be carried a suit from any part of the imperial dominions.

Lord Haldane has decided that such a measure will command the support of the dominions as well as the United Kingdom.

Two selected judges will be added to the Lords of Appeal, and there will then be six Law Lords devoting their whole time to sitting in two courts.

The conditions and method of appeal from different parts of the Empire will be suited as far as practicable to the local requirements, as complete uniformity in these respects is not attainable at present.

A plan for making the British Public Record Office more efficient and useful has been recommended in the report of the Royal Commission on Public Record. It recognizes that the office has done much excellent work in recent years, but declares that it has not ben generously supported.

It is understood that the commission has been greatly assisted by the evidence and experience of American students, who do much work in the Public Record Office.

First of all the commission contends that the documents, to be of use to students, must be made more accessible and must be placed in charge of scholars. Accessibility, however, does not imply centralization, and the commission recommends that local documents should be kept in the localities where they originate. It recommends that these branch record offices, wherever possible, should be placed near a good reference library and in the neighborhood of a university.

The great territorial readjustments involved in the transfer of the capital of India from Calcutta to Delhi have been completed by the creation of an Imperial reservation comprising the City of Delhi and the district west of the river Jumma. The reservation, although considerably smaller than the average of Indian provinces, is larger than originally planned.

The reservation has an area of 429 square miles and the police post serves an area of 128 square miles of hills, bringing the total to 557 square miles. The population of this area, according to the last census, is 392,000, of whom close upon 233,000 are within the municipal limits of Delhi. All of the central government offices will be located in Delhi by the beginning of the new year.

The French Capital.

Paris, Oct. 19.—The serious question of the security of aeroplanes has been raised by the great number of fatal accidents to airmen and is to be discussed at length at a special session of the Permanent International Aeronautical Commission during the aviation salon on November 4, 5 and 6th. Several important communications are then to be made by military and civil experts of various countries.

A novel feature of the Salon which opens October 26th, will be the exhibition of a large number of military and naval air craft constructed by public subscription. The military machines are to be guarded by aeronautical sappers and the naval hydro-aeroplanes by bluejackets.

A number of "Aviettes," which is the technical name for machines or planes propelled by human power only, will be exhibited in a special section of the Salon.

The 700 candidates for France's flying corps are to be subjected to very severe tests at the physical examination ordered by the Ministry of War.

Among the requirements are perfect vision, normal color sense, sharp hearing, and absolute soundness of the organs of respiration and circulation. It is specified particularly that no men who have to wear spectacles shall do any flying, a rule made the more interesting because some of the world's most notable air men, past and present, wore or now wear glasses.

The candidates are now learning to fly at the government aerodromes, some of them as pilots of dirigible balloons, but the majority as individual aeroplane pilots. The test is to be more severe for operators of aeroplanes than for balloon aeronauts.

Forty million dollars yearly is the estimated figure of the damage done by rats to crops and property in France. The publication of these statistics by the Incorporated Society for the Destruction of Vermin has given an impetus to the campaign for the extermination of the rodent, which is also known to be a transmitter of disease.

The example set by several American cities has been followed with great interest in France and has led Dr. Fontelle to make a special study of the subject. He finds that the role of the rat and the mouse has been very serious in connection with cases of pneumonia. For a long time it has been noticed that this disease was more deadly in hospitals than other places. The pneumonia microbe becomes extremely virulent in the blood of a mouse and, if a sick person comes in contact with a mouse microbe, he will be gravely attacked by the disease.

The depredations of the rat in France on property are enormous. It is reckoned that for a farm of 50 hectares of wheat and pasture lands, the losses caused by rats reach an annual minimum of $200. The destruction by rats throughout France amounts yearly to about $1 to each inhabitant. Dr. Fontenelle says: "This is too high a tax to pay to the rat tribe and the ever-present danger from the rodents' propagation of maladies like the plague and pneumonia shows the wisdom of carrying on a determined war of extermination."

An amusing narrative of the comforts of prison life in Constantinople is told by a French correspondent.

Having applied in vain for permission to visit the imprisoned Djavid Bey, ex-Minister of Finance, the correspondent went to the prison and boldly asked to see the distinguished prisoner. To his surprise he was immediately shown in, and after having been requested to sign the visitors' book, was ushered into a magnificently furnished room, where the Governor and several attendants were occupied receiving the prisoner's guests. A large table in the centre of the room groaned under the weight of cakes and Oriental sweetmeats, while coffee was being handed round by uniformed servants.

Djavid Bey himself was delivering a political speech at the far end of the apartment. Having concluded his discourse amid a round of applause from his fellow prisoners, the ex-Minister came forward to welcome his guest. Prisoner and correspondent made a tour of inspection of the sumptuous house of detention, where the prisoner's rooms are decorated every day with fresh cut flowers and where the sentries are expected by the Governor to wait upon the prisoners. Then they took coffee together.

As the correspondent was about to leave, stating that he had only a half an hour to spare, Djavid Bey said: "I shall accompany you."

The prison doors opened without the slightest difficulty and half an hour later the ex-Minister bade his guest farewell, saying that it was too cold to stay out late and that he was going "home."

One of Wilson's Retorts.

(From Governor Wilson's Colorado Springs Speech.)

"I am reminded," said he, "of something that happened when I was a young man at the University of Virginia. You know what always happens when a man can't answer your arguments. What has happened to me when I have uttered an argument that could not be answered? I have been called academic, which I regard as a compliment to universities.

"When I was a boy, there were two factions in the Democratic party in Virginia which were having a pretty hot contest with one another. In one of the counties one of these factions had practically no partisans at all, and there was a man named Massey, one of the chief spokesmen of the other party. He was a little, slim, insignificant-looking man, but he had a very important manner, and when he began to talk it was very difficult to say anything on the other side.

"He sent a challenge up to this county I have alluded to, and challenged them to debate with him. They didn't quite like the idea, but they were too proud to decline, so they put up their best debater, a great, big, good-natured man whom everybody called Tom, and it was arragned that Massey should have the first hour.

"When the occasion came, Massey began to get under the skins of the people he was talking to, and he hadn't more than half got through his speech when it was evident he was getting the crowd with him; whereupon one of Tom's partisans in the back of the room, who saw how things were going, yelled out:

"'Tom, call him a liar, and make it a fight.'"

When the roar of laughter and applause that greeted this answer to Roosevelt had subsided, the Governor, who was laughing with the crowd, added dryly:

"Apparently the thing has reached that stage in this campaign."

Think of Perkins, of Steel Trust fame, and the Third Term candidate in charge of the people's interests against the trusts! For one thing the Steel Trust, which the Colonel said was a good trust, will get about what it wants. The poor old Standard Oil, having stuck to Taft and the old machine, will be the goat. Morgan and Perkins are not dominant in the Standard Oil, you know.

President Taft put hides on the free list but kept the tariff on the wool. For that they'll presently hang his political hide on the fence and throw stones at it. When a President goes a-wool gathering, something's bound to happen to him.

Some women complain that they periodically suffer from dull and heavy feelings, or dizziness in the head, nervousness, pain and bearing-down feelings which should not occur to the normal healthy woman. But most every woman is subject to these pains at some time in her life, due to abnormal conditions in life, such as corsets, over-taxed strength, bad air, poor or improper food, wet feet, sluggish liver, etc. A regulator and female tonic made from native medicinal roots with pure glycerin, and without the use of alcohol, called

Dear Amy:—

Every home should have a cozy corner where the men folks can lounge and smoke; when we wives can sip a congenial cup of tea when a good neighbor drops in, and where, remember, we were once young, our children, when they grow up, can chat with just the ones they like the best.

I was down town yesterday and saw so many cute things for cozy corners.

WHEN WILSON IS PRESIDENT

Complexion of Two Houses of Congress Will Be Important to the Democratic Administration—Case of Senator Warren

Chicago, Oct. 19.—To the end that Governor Wilson may be able to carry into effect the policies and reforms in governmental affairs which he advocates and to which the Democratic party stands committed, it is essential that he should have the support of both Houses of the legislative branch of the government.

No one seriously doubts that the next House of Representatives will be Democratic, even by a larger majority than is the present House which numbers 67 more Democrats than Republicans. Hence, extraordinary effort is being put forth by the Democratic managers to bring about the election of a sufficient number of Democratic Senators to enable the party to have a working majority in the upper branch of the National Legislature.

In order to accomplish this the Democratic managers have made a new departure in connection with the National Campaign by organizing a Senatorial Bureau, the purpose of which is the election of a Democratic Senate. This bureau is under the direction of Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri.

A singular phase of the Senatorial situation is the fact that with one exception, every Democrat in the present Senate whose term expires on March 4th, next, will be succeeded by himself or some other Democrat for the reason that all of them come from certain Democratic States, such as Texas, Kentucky, Maryland, South Carolina and other Southern States.

The battle for the control of the Senate, therefore, is chiefly in the West and Middle West, in those States now represented in the Senate by Republicans. Making allowance for the fact that Senator Gardner, the junior member from Maine, who is a Democrat, may not be re-elected, a change of seven is all that is necessary to give the Democrats control of the Senate. Senator Sanders, of Tennessee, who holds his place in the Senate by appointment of the Republican Governor of that State will, of course, be succeeded by a Democrat to be chosen by the Legislature elected this Fall. There will be two Senators chosen from Colorado, one to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Hughes, and one to succeed Senator Guggenheim. The Democratic primary nominees are Governor John F. Shafroth, the present executive for the long term, and former Governor Charles S. Thomas for the short term. There is very little doubt about their election.

A Senator will be elected in Nevada in place of Senator Massey, who was appointed by the Governor following the death of Senator Nixon. Senator Massey is a candidate on the Republican ticket and his Democratic opponent is Key Pittman, of Tonopah. Nevada has the Oregon system and the Legislature is morally bound to elect the man who receives the popular vote in the State. The Bull Moose party has a candidate and that greatly increases Mr. Pittman's chances. The Democrats are confident of gaining a Senator from Nevada.

In Oregon their chances are excellent. Senator Bourne was defeated for the Republican nomination by Ben Selling and has now announced himself as an Independent candidate. There is also a Bull Moose aspirant, Dr. Harry Lane, former Mayor of Portland, is the Democratic nominee and will probably be chosen as the next Senator.

Three candidates are contesting for the seat now held by Senator Joseph M. Dixon, campaign manager for Colonel Roosevelt. Mr. Dixon has not been able to give any attention to the State and his defeat by T. J. Walsh, the Democratic nominee is practically certain.

In Wyoming, Senator Francis E. Warren, who has been the State boss for twenty years, is having the fight of his life. Serious charges have been made against the Wyoming Senator to the effect that he has been carrying private employes on the public pay rolls. The Democrats have a strong candidate in the person of John B. Kendrick, of Sheridan, a member of the present State Senate, and it looks as if the Warren machine would go to pieces.

In Nebraska the fight is between former Governor A. T. Shallenberger, Democrat, and Representative George W. Norris, who won the Republican nomination over Senator Norris Brown. Mr. Norris is trying to straddle, classing himself as a progressive Republican, yet claiming the regular nomination, while espousing the cause of Roosevelt. Senator Hitchcock, Democrat, won by 20,000 majority two years ago, under the Oregon system, and there is good reason to believe that his colleague, after the 4th of March, will be a Democrat.

Senator William S. Kenyon, recognized as a real progressive, is in an unfortunate position in Iowa. He won the Republican nomination by a large majority and then declared for Taft. This so angered the Bull Moosers that they have nominated candidates in all of the close districts which means, that, for the first time in history, Iowa will most likely elect a Democratic Legislature which will in turn choose former Representative Daniel Hamilton, Democrat, for United States Senate in place of Kenyon.

In Kansas, Judge William T. Thompson, Democrat, is scheduled to defeat Governor Stubbs, the Mooseite and one of the seven wise or otherwise Governors who urged the Colonel to become a candidate. Gov. Stubbs, who is a multi-millionaire, won the Republican nomination over Senator Curtis on a fluke. Mr. Curtis had the popular majority but failed to carry as many legislative districts as did his opponent, hence Stubbs was declared the nominee. The regulars are intensely bitter against him and are openly fighting for Judge Thompson.

Two Senators will be elected in Illinois, one to succeed Senator Cullom and the other to fill the vacancy caused by the ousting of Senator Lorimer. James Hamilton Lewis is the Democratic candidate and L. Y. Sherman the Republican nominee. Lorimer was not removed from the Senate until after the primaries had been held and, accordingly, there have been no nominations made for the short term. Under the minority representation plan which prevails in Illinois, the Democrats have not made a fight for the Legislature in nearly twenty years. This year they have named a sufficient number of candidates to enable them to control the lower House with a large enough majority to overcome the probable Republican majority in the Senate. Progressive party candidates have been named in about 70 per cent of the districts and political experts figure that because of this the Democrats can control the Legislature by a narrow margin and elect at least one Democrat and probably two.

New Jersey, with Representative William Hughes as the Democratic nominee, is regarded as practically assured of a Democratic Legislature. Mr. Hughes, bearing the stamp of approval of Governor Wilson, defeated "Boss" Jim Smith by a handsome majority in the recent primaries and his election in the face of divided opposition is confidently expected.

In addition to these States the Democrats have an excellent opportunity of carrying Delaware and perhaps Massachusetts on their Senatorial ticket. They also have fighting chances in South Dakota, Idaho and Minnesota and the prospects are even good in Michigan.

Out of all this it seems certain that the Democrats will be able to elect more than enough to have a clear majority in the upper House and thus both branches of Congress will be in sympathy and harmony with Governor Wilson when he enters the White House on the 4th of March.

Senator Francis E. Warren, of Wyoming, chairman of the Senate Committee on appropriation, will be the subject of an investigation by a committee of the Senate when Congress convenes next December, and a determined effort will be made to oust him from that body on the ground that he has misappropriated the funds of the Senate.

This decision to make Warren follow in the footsteps of Lorimer has been reached as a result of a series of conferences between Progressive Republican and Democratic Senators.

Some time ago Collier's Weekly made a number of serious accusations against Warren. Included in these was the charge that Warren had carried on the Senate pay rolls a number of his relatives and employes who not only did not work for the Senate, but who were not even in Washington during the time they were receiving their monthly checks from the government. Senator Warren recently made reply to the Collier's attack. In his reply he admitted that his relatives and employes were carried on the Senate pay rolls and that they did not work for the government, but excused himself on the ground that the salaries drawn by them were more than balanced by sums which he had paid out of his own pockets for clerical assistance in connection with government work. Senators who have been waiting for Warren's reply now declare that his excuse is, in effect, a confession that he misappropriated the funds of the Senate. These senators assert that the misappropriation of the Senate funds furnish sufficient grounds for Warren's expulsion from the Senate.

It is declared that this movement to deprive Warren of his Senatorial seat is entirely non-partisan and it is more than likely that the resolution demanding an investigation and calling for his expulsion will be introduced by a Republican Senator immediately after Congress convenes next December.

CROSS-TIES PURCHASED.

Preliminary Comparative Report for 1911 Issued by Census Bureau.

Washington, Oct. 19—A preliminary statement showing the number of cross-ties purchased by steam and electric railroads during the years 1911, 1910, 1909, 1908 and 1907, was issued today by Director E. Dana Durand, of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce and Labor. The report was prepared by Jasper E. Wheichel, under the direction of William M. Steuart, chief statistician for Manufactures. The data have been compiled in co-operation with the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture, and form one of a series of annual reports containing statistics in regard to the lumber and timber industries.

While the total purchases of cross-ties by steam and electric railroads of the United States during the calendar year 1911, namely; 135,053,000, was less than that for 1910 by 13,178,000, or 8.9 per cent., it was larger than that for any other year since 1907, exceeding the total for 1909 by 11,302,000, or 9.1 per cent., and that of 1908, by 22,587,000, or 20.1 per cent. The steam railroads reported 126,155,000, or 93.4 per cent. of the cross-ties purchased during 1911, while 8,898,000, or 6.6 per cent. of the total were reported by the electric railroads, as compared with 139,596,000, or 94.2 per cent., reported by the steam railroads, and 8,635,000, or 5.8 per cent. by the electric railroads for the preceding year. It will be noted, therefore, that the entire decrease from the figures of 1910 was in the number of cross-ties purchased by the steam railroads, while an actual increase of 263,000, or 3 per cent. is shown in the reported total purchase by electric railroads. In this connection the large decrease in the total number of cross-ties purchased for new track during 1911, as compared with the totals for the preceding years, with the exception of 1908, is also significant. The total purchased for this purpose in 1911 was 11,041,000 as against 22,255,000 in 1910; 16,437,000 in 1909; 7,431,000 in 1908; and 28,557,000 in 1907.

While oak, as in preceding years, supplied more material for cross-ties in 1911 than any other species, it is noteworthy that the decrease in the number reported from this wood in 1910 was 13 per cent., as compared with a decrease of 8.9 per cent. in the total number of cross-ties cut from all species. Although there was an actual decrease in the number of Southern pine cross-ties reported for 1911, as compared with 1910, of about 2,000,000, the percentage of decrease was smaller than that for the total from all woods, being 7.6 per cent. A similar showing is noted for Douglas fir cross-ties, while an actual increase in 1911 over 1910 in cedar cross-ties of 710,000 or 9.7 per cent. is shown. There was little change in the number of chestnut cross-ties reported for the two years. While these five woods have contributed the bulk of cross-tie material for many years, a significant and interesting fact is disclosed by the figures covering the purchases of cross-ties cut from gum, maple and beech. Prior to 1908 the number of cross-ties manufactured from these three woods was negligible, though in 1911 they supplied material for 3,591,000 cross-ties, or nearly 3 per cent. of the total from all woods. Rapid increase in the use of these and other relatively low-priced woods during the last two or three years is due mainly to the fact that with an effective preservative treatment cross-ties cut from this class of timber will last as long or even longer than untreated cross-ties made from the more expensive and so-called standard cross-tie timbers, such as oak and Southern pine. A substantial growth in this practice of treating cross-ties is indicated by the increasing total number of cross-ties reported as having been given some preservative treatment during the past few years. In 1907 this total was 19,856,000; in 1908, 23,776,000; in 1909, 22,033,000; in 1910, 30,544,000, and in 1911, 31,141,000.

NATIONAL FOREST LINES

President Taft Issues Proclamation With Respect to Two Reservations

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—President Taft has issued proclamations changing the boundaries of the Missoula and Madison National Forests, Montana. From the former 4,960 acres are eliminated and from the latter 68,140 acres. These eliminations are the result of field examinations which the Department of Agriculture has been making in pursuance of a general plan to correct the National Forest boundary lines.

The areas eliminated from the Missoula National Forest are along the borders of the Flint Creek and Rock Creek exclusion of the Southern division. They consist of small areas along the foot hills chiefly valuable for grazing purposes.

The greater part of the Madison elimination embraces what is locally known as the lower Madison Basin and lies in two main bodies, one in Tps. 9 and 10 S., R. 1 W., and the other in Tps. 11, 12 and 13 S., Rgs. 1 and 2 E. Another rather large exclusion occurs in Tps. 9 and 10 S., R. 4 W. The remaining areas are small tracts at various points along the borders of the forest. Most of the lands excluded are grazing lands, although some areas in the lower Madison Valley are suscept ible of cultivation.

The public lands within the areas were by the same proclamation withdrawn for classification under the Act of June 25th, 1910, to be restored to settlement and entry at the discretion of the Secretary of the Interior.

Bell Telephone Bulletins

13—DUPLEX LINE SERVICE

Where two telephone subscribers are served by one line the service they receive is known as "duplex" service. This class of service is for small users of the telephone and neither party on the line is expected to monopolize it. When one telephone on a "duplex" line is in use the line is "busy," and the other telephone cannot be used for either incoming or outgoing messages.

When you call a "duplex" or party line telephone and the operator tells you "the line is busy," it does not necessarily mean that the number you ask for is "busy." The other telephone may be in use and in that case "the line is busy."

If you subscribe to "duplex" or party line telephone service do not answer your telephone until the bell stops ringing. If you remove the receiver off the hook while the bell is ringing it opens a circuit and the bell on the other telephone on your line also rings. This is one of the reasons why "duplex" telephones sometimes ring when the other party is wanted.

If "duplex" subscribers would be careful not to remove the receiver while the bell is ringing a cause of annoyance, over which we have no control, would be removed.

THE WEEK'S NEWS IN BRIEF

Important Happenings, Day by Day, Compiled and Republished for the Benefit of the Busy Man and the Week-End Reader—New York Markets for Each Day of the Six.

SUNDAY.

Gov. Deneen, of Illinois, was accused by Roosevelt yesterday of deliberate perversion of the truth.

Italy last night granted Turkey three days' grace to decide on peace or a continuance of war. Montenegrin forces suffered heavy losses in the capture of Detichitch mountain.

Bedient let the New York Giants down with three hits yesterday, and Boston won the fifth game of the world's series, 2 to 1. The Red Sox now need only one game to give them the series.

An agreement was reached yesterday between the Atlanta Joint Terminal Co. and representatives of the striking employes, practically settling the strike on the Georgia Railroad and Atlanta terminals.

The war cloud has settled over Europe heavily and gloomily, and no rays of peace strike through from any quarter. A general explosion is confidently expected within another week.

"Bald Jack" Rose was the star witness at the Becker trial yesterday, and told how, at the behest of Becker, he planned the murder of Rosenthal. He was given a severe cross-examination by John F. McIntyre, and although he once collapsed, his story remained unshaken.

A stenographer formerly employed by John J. McNamara, at the dynamite conspiracy trial yesterday, identified a circular letter as having been addressed to all local unions of the International Association of Bridge & Structural Iron Workers, notifying them of a temporary suspension of a detailed accounting of the Union's finances.

New York Markets: Holiday.

TUESDAY.

Upwards of $400,000 was contributed to the pre-convention campaign funds of Wilson, Harmon and Underwood, according to witnesses at the Senate committee's hearing yesterday. Wm. McCombs, Gov. Wilson's manager, accounted for $208,000 of the Wilson fund.

The New York Giants batted O'Brien out of the box in the first inning of yesterday's game, the sixth of the world's series, and defeated the Bostons 5 to 2. Boston now needs one game and New York two, and Mathewson and Wood will be the opposing boxmen in today's crucial contest.

Col. Roosevelt was shot by an assassin last night in Milwaukee, Wis., while on his way to an auditorium to make a speech, and although weak from the loss of blood finished his speech and was carried to a hospital. He is not thought to be seriously injured. The would-be assassin was captured and is apparently demented over the subject of a third term.

Two Chinese and two white men were killed last night in a tong war in Chinatown, New York.

"Bridgie" Webber and Harry Vallon testified at the Becker trial yesterday and both corroborated Jack Rose's story of the murder plot and killing of Rosenthal. On account of threats against Judge Goff, all gangsters were barred from the court room.

President Taft and Secretary of the Navy Meyer yesterday inspected the fleet of American battleships anchored in the Hudson river.

New York markets: Money on call firm, 4 3-8 to 6 per cent.; ruling rate 5; closing bid 4 3-4; offered at 5. Spot cotton quiet. Flour firm. Wheat firm; No. 2 red 1.06. Corn, easy, 59 1-2. Turpentine quiet. Rosin steady.

WEDNESDAY.

The Senate committee investigating campaign contributions heard several witnesses yesterday and adjourned till Thursday.

After months of diplomatic strife, Ottoman and Italian plenipotentiaries yesterday signed the protocol of a peace treaty, which ends the war between Italy and Turkey.

Gov. Wilson announced last night that he would cancel all speaking engagements, with the exception of those arranged for this week, until Col. Roosevelt is able to take an active part in the campaign.

In questions asked Sam Scheppe, testifying yesterday in the Becker case, counsel for the police lieutenant intimated their defense would likely rest on efforts to show that Rosenthal was murdered by gamblers who wanted to get him out of their way because he "squealed on them."

Colonel Roosevelt's wound was yesterday found to be more serious than at first thought, and attending physicians stated that he was seriously wounded in the chest. Last night he was resting quietly and appeared to be in no immediate danger. All his speaking engagements for the remainder of the campaign have been cancelled.

Driving "Smoky Joe" Wood from the box in the first inning, the New York Giants yesterday won the seventh game of the world's series from the Boston Red Sox, and both teams are now on equal terms. The deciding battle will be staged in Boston today, and Mathewson will likely oppose Bedient.

New York markets: Money on call firm, 4 5-8 to 5 per cent.; ruling rate 4 7-8; closing bid 4 3-4; offered at 4 7-8. Spot cotton closed quiet. Flour unsettled. Wheat easy; No. 2 red 1.06. Corn steady 59 1-2. Turpentine easy. Rosin quiet.

THURSDAY

By defeating the New York Giants in the eight and deciding game of the world's series yesterday 3 to 2, the Boston Red Sox won the championship of the world. The Giants had a lead of one run in their half of the 10th inning but Boston won by sending two men across the plate in their half.

Colonel Roosevelt's condition yesterday was virtually unchanged and it may be several days before he is out of danger. It was learned that the would-be assassin's bullet fractured one of his ribs. Members of the former President's family reached Chicago yesterday and spent considerable time at his bedside.

U. S. District Attorney Miller, prosecuting the "dynamite" cases, yesterday called on the Department of Justice to make a rigid investigation of the reported slugging of H. O. Pearce, who testified Monday.

General Felix Diaz, nephew of ex-President Diaz, raised the banner of rebellion at Vera Cru yesterday.

The declaration of war by Bulgaria against Turkey was published in Sofia yesterday.

Italy and Turkey yesterday signed peace terms at Ouchy.

Senator Beveridge last night delivered at Louisville, Ky., Colonel Roosevelt's message to the nation, dictated from his bed in Mercy Hospital.

New York markets: Money on call firm, 4 to 5 per cent.; ruling rate and closing bid 4 7-8; offered at 5. Spot cotton closed quiet. Flour unsettled. Wheat, irregular; No. 2 red 1.06 to 1.08. Corn, steady, 59 1-2. Turpentine and rosin steady.

FRIDAY.

Governor Wilson reluctantly continued his campaign in Delaware yesterday, but made no mention of the Progressive party, confining himself to State issues. He paid tribute to Col. Roosevelt, who lies in a Chicago hospital.

Colonel Roosevelt issued a statement yesterday asking that the campaign be not discontinued on account of his inability to take part in it.

The State yesterday rested its case in the trial of Police Lieut. Becker, and John W. Hart, of Becker's counsel, will make the opening address for the defense today.

Throughout a day of unbroken calm yesterday Col. Roosevelt lay in his bed at Mercy Hospital, Chicago, with virtually no change in his condition. His physicians said he was by no means out of danger yet, but were more optimistic in regard to possible complications.

Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, died in Washington last night after a lingering illness.

The Balkan war is likely to be a short and snappy one, owing to the approach of Winter and financial pressure which will be brought to bear on some of the States. The conflict is expected to develop into a land campaign between Turkey and Bulgaria and a naval one between Turkey and Greece.

Thomas W. Lawson yesterday told the Clapp committee investigating campaign contributions that the "sinister system" plotted to fix the Presidential election.

New York markets: Money on call firm, 4 3-4 to 5 per cent; ruling rate 4 3-4; closing bid 4 5-8; offered at 4 7-8. Spot cotton closed quiet. Flour quiet. Wheat easy; No. 2 red 1.06 to 1.06 1-2. Corn, easier; export 59. Turpentine quiet. Rosin steady

SATURDAY.

Government agents are looking for more evidence against the alleged "dynamite" conspirators.

Jack Johnson, negro champion pugilist, was arrested yesterday for the alleged abduction of Lucille Cameron, a white girl.

The Bulgarian army yesterday occupied Kourtkala, an important strategic point near Mustafa Pacha, 20 miles northwest of Adrianople.

Greece yesterday declared war against Turkey. The Greek fleet departed from Athens simultaneously with the invasion of Turkish territory by the army.

Gov. Wilson discussed the position of the Democratic party on the tariff in a speech at Pittsburg yesterday, and predicted that the reform forces will control the next Congress.

A copy of the list of contributors to the 1904 Republican campaign fund, kept by Cornelius N. Bliss, was yesterday put in evidence before the Clapp committee, and showed contributions amounting to $2,208,018.

Col. Roosevelt who seemed to be well on the way to recovery, yesterday told his most vivid impressions of the shooting in Milwaukee, and planned to leave the hospital in Chicago for Oyster Bay Monday. He hopes to resume his campaign week after next.

"Jack" Sullivan went on the stand yesterday for the defense in the Becker case to tell how the police lieutenant was the victim of a gamblers' conspiracy, but was allowed to tell very little along that line.

New York markets: Money on call firm, 4 1-2 to 4 7-8 per cent; ruling rate and closing bid 4 3-4; offered at 4 7-8. Spot cotton closed quiet. Flour steady. Wheat firm; No. 2 1.06. Corn, firm 59 1-2. Turpentine steady.

VIA ISTHMUSES.

Rapid Growth of Commerce Between Atlantic and Pacific Coasts.

Washington, Oct. 19.—Commerce between the eastern and western coasts of the United States by way of the Isthmuses of Panama and Tehuantepec shows a remarkable growth in recent years. Figures just made public by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce of the Department of Commerce and Labor show that this traffic has trebled in value in the last four years. Prior to 1907 all merchandise passing between the eastern and western coasts of the United States by way of the isthmus utilized the Panama Railway. At the beginning of 1907, however, a railway line 190 miles in length was opened across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec in Southern Mexico, constructed with special facilities for transferring merchandise from vessels to railway and railway to vessels, and since that date this traffic, on both the Panama and Tehuantepec railway lines, has grown very rapidly and amounted in the fiscal year 1912 to $125,000,000 in value, against $36,000,000 in 1908. These figures, which include only domestic merchandise passing by way of the isthmus between the eastern and western coasts of the United States, including, however, Porto Rico as among the eastern, and Hawaii among the western ports), suggest that a still greater growth in this traffic between the eastern and western coasts is likely to develop with the opportunity for vessel shipments without breaking bulk at the Isthmus, which will come with the opening of the Panama Canal.

The chief growth in this coast to coast traffic by way of the Isthmus has developed, as above indicated, since the opening of the Tehuantepec Railway. The total value of shipments from the Atlantic coast ports to the Pacific coast ports in the year ended June 30, 1908, the first fiscal year including a full year's operation of the Tehuantepec road, was $15,750,000, of which over $13,000,000 passed by way of the Tehuantepec road. By 1912 the total had grown to $69,500,000, of which a little over $55,000,000 was by way of Tehuantepec.

The value of merchandise passing from Pacific coast ports to Atlantic coast ports by way of the isthmuses was, in the fiscal year 1908, $19,750,000, of which about $18,334,000 passed by way of the Tehuantepec road. In the fiscal year 1912 this total had grown to practically $55,000,000, of which a little less than $45,000,000 crossed by the Tehuantepec line.

Practically all of the sugar sent from Hawaii to the eastern coast of the United States goes by way of Tehuantepec and forms considerably more than one-half of the eastward movement of domestic merchandise from the Pacific to the Atlantic coast by way of the Tehuantepec road; while merchandise from the eastern coast bound for the Hawaiian Islands froms approximately 10 per cent. of the westward movement of domestic merchandise across the Tehuantepec road.

The character of articles forming this large traffic between the eastern and western coasts by way of the isthmuses of Tehuantepec and Panama is shown by a table issued by the Division of Statistics of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce. This table shows that of the $12,250,000 worth of merchandise passing from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific ports of the United States in July and August, 1912, iron and steel manufactures amounted to over $3,000,000; cotton manufactures to nearly $2,000,000, and the remainder miscellaneous articles in large variety, chiefly manufactures. The merchandise from the Pacific coast destined to the Atlantic ports includes, as above indicated, sugar from the Hawaiian Islands, forming about one-half of the total of $8,000,000 during the two months ended August 31, 1912; the remainder being chiefly fruits, canned vegetables, canned salmon, wool, copper ore and wines.

CITY LOYALTY

West Texas Editor Who Has Spirit of The Hour

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 19.—Loyalty to one's town always is commendable and though it is so frequent as almost to be commonplace, examples of it never fail to win praise. There are few, however, that go to the extreme of an editor in Menard, a little county seat town in West Texas, who in reply to an invitation to attend a fair in North Texas, wrote: "I have the time and plenty of money to enable me to join the gang in your city on Press Day and visit your fair, but I am so deeply in love with Menard that I cannot think of tearing myself away for the purpose."

As Gov. Marshall put it, "Morgan was a tightwad." One hundred and fifty thousand dollars was a mere bagatelle and "That man" earned a bigger contribution when, later on, he gave Morgan and Perkins a "permit" to gobble up the Tennessee Coal & Iron Company. Perhaps Perkins was merely grateful when he became financial angel for the campaign of the Bull Moose.

CONFER WITH COLONEL.

Gov. Johnson Hurries to Chicago—Important Developments.

Marion, Ind., Oct. 17.—Governor Johnson tonight closed his Indiana campaign and hurried to Chicago to confer with Col. Roosevelt tomorrow. Important developments may come out of the meeting between the two candidates, although Governor Johnson did not make public what the nature of the discussion will be. The loss of Col. Roosevelt for the present practically has thrown the active leadership of the new party on Governor Johnson and he is anxious to get the Colonel's views on certain problems.

Later the Governor will meet Progressive managers who anxiously await the conference of the leaders.

ADVERTISING MATTER

Some Speeches In Congressional Record Should be Labeled

San Antonio, Texas, Oct. 19.—It is suggested by a Texas editor that the lawmakers requiring speeches or contributions printed as advertising matter should be labeled "advertisement" should have passed a law also requiring that undelivered speeches by members of Congress published (by request) in the Congressional Record should be labeled: "Advertisement published and circulated at the people's expense for the benefit of Hon. John Doe."

No spit, no consumption. Tubercular sputa is either inhaled direct in the form of finely divided spray, droplets or mist coughed up or spit out by a consumptive; or the sputa settles, dries, and is later stirred up as dust and brethed into the lungs. In either case the breather runs good chances of contracting consumption. But we must breathe, and careless consumptives will spit, so let's avoid careless consumptives and dust.

WOODROW WILSON CLERGY CONTRIBUTION

This letter is to those whose convictions have led them to the endorsement of the Democratic nominee for President of the United States.

It is manifectly impossible to know who these are in advance. To all others who may receive this appeal, we respectfully state that it is not our desire to place them under obligation to read or respond, nor do we seek either to change or condemn convictions of those who differ with us. To those of the Clergy who favor the election of Governor Wilson, we believe that there rarely arises such a clear call and such a signal opportunity as that now before us. This call and this opportunity bear a three-fold relation—to the Church, the individual minister and the cause at issue.

Aside from her enduring spiritual mission, the Christian Church has today an unequalled opportunity to show herself alive to her Master's injunction to "render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's." This in a government of, for and by the people is a requisite of rendering "unto God the things that are God's." Since "righteousness exalteth a nation," and since that righteousness is, as we believe, supremelly established by Christian laws and Christian principles, exemplified in and administered by men of Christian character, in justice toward and for the welfare of All Classes, is there not a distinct mission and a clear call to the Christian Church to see that this gospel of righteousness is not only preached but established and maintained?

There is a vital connection between a Nation's government and the physical, moral and spiritual needs and rights of that Nation's people. If it be our country's supreme need and our God's supreme purpose that the Kingdom of men shall become the Kingdom of God, it cannot be unless and until those who serve in the Kingdom of God serve also well and worthily in the Kingdom of men. Opportunities for the Church to render her service to the world come for the most part in the indirect ways of influence, teaching and spiritual power. Too often these are thwarted, diverted or defeated by the injustice of laws and the unrighteousness of rulers. When the Ministry of the Militant Church, each in his own conviction of duty, resolve to do battle in God's and His people's name, against the powers of injustice and unrighteousness, then and not until then will the Church's mission and message be free to reach, liberate and redeem those whom she is commissioned to serve, then will her critics and her foes realize that she is not deaf to humanity's great vital needs nor afraid to lift her voice and exert her influence in all practical fields of service. For this reason first, we make our appeal.

The second relation of this appeal is to the minister as an individual, that his own people and all others may know that while he is "every inch a minister, he is every nerve a man," that his ordination does not set him apart from men but charges and consecrates him to do his part by men, that while he is not above helping the humblest he cannot consent to be below leading the strongest; that he has a duty which no other duty can destroy and a right which no other man shall deny to "render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's," whether by his money, his vote or his voice.

The third relation is that to the cause at issue. What is that cause? The welfare of the people—all the people—and the righteousness of the government—the whole government, where he shall find his duty is with each man's conviction and conscience, as is his method of exercising that duty. That those who differ with us will find and do their duty in the present issue, it is not our part to doubt or deny. We are fully alive to our own need of the warning to "let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall" and to the condemnation that comes from men as well as our chosen Master upon Pharasaic self-righteousness.

We desire merely to present to those who share our convictions the opportunity to render feasible, fair and open support to the cause of placing at the head of this Nation's and this People's affairs the man in whom we feel are embodied the truest, sanest and highest principles of personal character and public fitness—Woodrow Wilson.

We ask you to share with us the privilege and fulfill with us the duty of rendering such practical support by giving to the Clergy Contribution Fund whatever amount you choose. Such a fund, without taint of corruption, desire of favor or mark of compulsion, cannot fail to challenge and arouse the forces of righteousness on the eve of our country's great crisis.

This appeal did not originate with and was not suggested by any person or organization having political relations with the campaign of Governor Wilson. It is undertaken by Clergymen of their own accord and has afterwards received the approval of individual members of the Democratic National Committee. It is in no sense partisan or denominational—Protestant or Roman Catholic. The contributions will be received and deposited by the Calvert Bank of Baltimore, and every check must be made payable to the bonded cashier of that bank. Your reply should be sent in the enclosed envelope to the employed secretary and your check sent in the same envelope, but made payable to W. H. Dashiell, treasurer.

There is no league nor organization of any nature formed or planned by the writers of this letter. We ourselves have never had a meeting nor do we intend to do anything that might savour of political campaigning. We have merely felt that we have a right, and we think a duty, to make our contributions to a cause in which we believe, and we wish to extend to others who agree with us the privilege of contributing through a medium that has no official relation to any political organization.

This letter is sent by clergymen on their own responsibility as citizens and is directed to clergymen in order to offer a natural and easy method of supporting their convictions as rightful citizens. Other men, and especially those in professional life, are welcome to make use of this plan of contributing.

While we have exercised the unquestioned right to express our views of the relation of the public welfare to men of Christian citizenship, we desire to reiterate that neither our motive nor our appeal can be construed into a reflection on others of different convictions, religious, personal or moral.

The names of those responsible for this letter may be obtained, if desired, from the secretary.

An early response will mean much.

THEATRICAL

The Academy has only two offerings for this week, but these two will be notable enough to be all desired and to set the expectancy of theatre-goers in a flutter. One superb attraction will be the big Weber musical show, "Alma Where Do You Live?" It will be given a brilliant production and will be offered at matinee and night next Saturday, seats going on sale at Plummer's for both performances Friday morning. The matinee prices will go but to $1, save for box seats.

There will be a number of good seats in the balcony for 50 cents.

Friday night, Della Clarke in "Introduce Me" will be the offering.

The following Monday, October 28th, one of the most brilliant offerings of the entire season will be made in "The Pink Lady." It will be a regulation Klaw and Erlanger production, which is quite sufficient as a guarantee of its worth and tremendousness. In these two attractions Wilmington theatre-goers will find the best to be had anywhere and they will, no doubt, give each a giant sized audience, as they richly deserve.

ELIZABETH MacAFEE.
and "The Wiling Victims in "The Pink Lady."

"Alma Where Do You Live."

The attraction to be seen at the Academy Saturday, matinee and night, will be Joseph M. Weber's splendid production of "Alma, Where Do You Live?" which it will be remembered played for a full season at Weber's Theatre, New York, and was one of the most distinctive hits of the past season. "Alma" may be described as neither farce nor burlesque, nor yet wholly musical comedy, but something of all three of these. Originally a French musical play by Paul Herve and Jean Briquet—it was given for a long time in Paris and was first seen in America in the German, having been translated into the language for use at Adolph Philip's New York Theatre in 86th street, where it was played for nearly a season before being secured by Joseph M. Weber for use at his theatre. The German adaptation received some harsh criticisms on account of the suggestiveness to be found in it; but in the American version this has been wholly eliminated. The present adaptation was made by George V. Hobart, who has done his work most cleverly and has lost none of the interest and humor contained in the original French play. There are 14 numbers in the score and the music by Brisquet is particularly attractive, especially the number, "Alma, Where Do You Live?" which has proved decidedly catching and is one of those pieces of music that sends the audience away from the theatre whistling the air. The company is headed by Miss Grace Drew, while other important members of the cast are Carlton King, the wel known comedian, and Chas. F. Orr. A splendid scenic production has been provided and "Alma" will undoubtedly prove one of the most attractive features of the season.

"The Pink Lady."

No musical attraction of recent prominence has ever attained the financial and artistic success that Klaw and Erlanger's international musical comedy de luxe, "The Pink Lady" announced for the Academy for Monday night, October 28th, and strange as it may seem, its popularity in Europe is as great as in America. This announcement is most strange because according to theatrical history 90 per cent. of the American successes have failed abroad, where as in this instance its European success was so marked that six gigantic organizations were immediately organized for its presentation in England, France, Germany, Russia, Australia and even Japan; and another most flattering endorsement of Klaw & Erlanger's efforts is the fact that "The Pink Lady" in theme is possessed of a foreign atmosphere, so natural for foreign productions and heretofore considered beyond the conceivement of American producers, and according to the unanimous endorsement of the English press, it was commonly quoted that George Edwardes Gaiety Theatre productions never equalled this American effort for a reproduction of European atmospherical flavor and never equaled the magnitude and lavishness produced in "The Pink Lady's" many electrical, costume and scenic environments. This company is presented under the personal supervision of Klaw & Erlanger, and under the rather celebrated stage direction of Herbert Gresham and Julian Mitchell, the stage wizard that has really made the name of Florenz Ziegfeld famous for the "Anna Held" and "Follies" productions.

Boys' Brigade.

The music lovers of Wilmington are promised a treat in the first number of the Boys' Brigade Lyceum Course, which will be presented next Tuesday night when the Metropolitan Concert Company will be the attraction. Too much praise, it is said, cannot be lavished upon this company of artists for their reputation is of the highest order and this will be amply sustained in their concert next Tuesday night. The press of the country is exceedingly complimentary as will be seen in the following criticisms:

"As to Miss Dunham, the soloist, too much could not be said, for Raleigh has seldom had the pleasure of listening to a more beautiful voice or a more finished artist."—Raleigh (N. C.) Daily Times.

"With a voice of singular power and a great charm of manner and appearance, Miss Dunham should go far in music. Every number was encored, many of them twice, and at the end of the recital a remarkable thing occurred. The audience would not leave; Miss Dunham had finished her last song, the house stood and remained standing and continued to applaud; she came back and bowed, and returned again. And even then they made her sing again."—Richmond News-Leader.

"One of the very best voices we have ever heard in these recitals was that of Miss Dunham in the eighth recital. She sang a grand aria in a manner that excited almost a sensation. Not only did she prove again that the American voice, as Marchesi has frequently asserted, is naturally the best we hear, but also an American teacher, as we were told, has understood how to place it so admirably, that there is nothing to correct or criticise."—Dresden, Germany.

Reserved seats will go on sale at W. R. Dosher's tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, where all who wish to select their seats for this superb concert may do so. Every seat in the house has been sold for the entire season so that no tickets will be sold at the door. Patrons wishing to have their seats reserved are requested to take their season tickets with them for exchange for single tickets. The cost of reserving is ten cents which is assessed merely to defray the expense of handling this feature of accommodation.

A splendid programme of wide range is announced for the concert.

Della Clarke in "Introduce Me."

Della Clarke's new comedy, "Introduce Me", which is absolutely new in theme, bright and laughable throughout and wholesome in every moment, will be the offering at the Academy Friday night of this week.

The story of "Introduce Me" has to do with the misfortunes and domestic infelicity of a young married couple. George Nichol, an unsuccessful playwriter, has a wife who is more gifted and successful and who writes under the name of Frances Everton, absolutely unknown to her husband. She explains her income that keeps them in comfort and happiness by saying that her Aunt Hannah makes her a bountiful allowance.

The wfite writes a book entitled, "Susan", which creates something of a furore, and her girl chum, Edna Somers, who is an actress, prevails upon her to have the book dramatized that she might star in it. Meanwhile Aunt Hannah arrives and trouble begins right away. A manager of Mrs. Nichols calls and is talking business with her on the sofa, when Aunt Hannah comes in and sees them making love as she thinks. A little later Edna Somers arrives at th e Nichols home, she is making arrangements with the husband about dramatizing the book, "Susan," when Aunt Hannah comes in again; she sees that the actress is smoking a cigarette and is making love to the husband. The aunt leaves the room and discovers a bottle of wine in the cooler, which she thinks is cider; she drinks it, becomes tipsy and tells the husband that a man was making love to his wife a few hours before, just as he was doing to the actress. She also states that she has only one cow, two pigs and two acres, and she can't send anybody anything. When the wife arrives her husband questions her integrity and she leaves him. They are living apart when the play is produced and it turns out to be a great success. The finale brings the husband and wife together again, when he is all but overcome with astonishment to know that it is his wife who wrote the book, "Susan."

New Week at the Grand.

"Don't Blame Me for Lovin' You", written by Chas. K. Harris, the dean of all ballad writers, will be the song by Mr. Leonard Chick at the Grand Theatre Monday and this should prove a winner with enthusiastic patrons of this popular playhouse. This song is sung by that talented little actress, Miss Elsie Janis, in "The Slim Princess," and is the hit of the show. The illustrations are beautiful and this will be the hit of the week at the Grand.

In the movies there will be "Holding the Fort," an Edison, which gives the story of a newly married young couple who are anxious not to be recognized as bride and groom. They wire for reservation of a room at a hotel and get mixed up with a "new woman" who is assigned to the same apartments. It is comedy pure and simple and it will be a scream from start to finish. "A Tragedy of Long Ago" will be the other feature for tomorrow and it is a magnificent portrayal of marriage in the royalty. There is a thrilling escape scene and many other interesting and sensational climaxes.

In addition to these two there will be a third feature and when all is said and done the Monday ocering at the Grand will have found few equals anywhere in the popular priced theatres of the entire country.

At The Bijou

The Bijou is certainly the favorite spot of Wilmington amusement lovers, as each day's giant-sized crowd, with their pleased expression, on face and by vocal way, attests. Yesterday, in spite of the grimaces of the weather, folks by the scord went Bijouward and crowded the amusement palace, where they witnessed one of the best bills ever presented in Wilmington. They also witnessed it under the most comfortable circumstances and at the very smallest price of admission—5 cents. The Bijou never varies this admission, no matter how much extra expense is indulged in so as to give the folks of Wilmington the very best.

The present week's offerings will be the best of all, and the very latest. Tomorrow's bill will conclusively show the bigness and greatness of this week's slate. The star of the bill tomorrow will be a rousing Vitagraph comedy, "An Elephant on Their Hands." It tells how a town constable seizes an elephant from a circus for debt, how he gets "tanked up," and the adventures he has with the elephant. It is a scream.

"For His Mother's Sake" is the leading dramatic tomorrow and it unfolds, in vivid manner, the story of a young man who becomes infatuated with an adventuress and he almost steals in order to marry her. At last he is brought to a realization by his old mother.

And one of the prettiest and sweetest of all films, "An International Romance," Selig's latest, is also a feature for tomorrow. It is a fascinating and picturesque story of love in far-off Germany. It is most interesting and the scenes of the Fatherland are beautiful.

Tomorrow's Bijou bill is truly going to be a hummer.

MESSAGE TO WORKING WOMEN.

All women work; some in homes, some in church, some in the whirl of society, and in stores, offices and shops, tens of thousands are on the never ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.

All women, however, are subject to the same physical laws, and suffer alike from the same physical disturbances and weaknesses, peculiar to their sex. Every woman, no matter what her station in life, should remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the great remedy for female ills, in which she should place her trust.

HOME HEALTH CLUB

By Dr. David Jr. Reeder, Chicago, Illinois.

Someone has said: "Tell me what you eat and I will tell you what you are." We might say: "Tell me what you eat and when and how you eat it, and we will tell you what your physical derangements are."

When children are overfed, it hastens maturity. Early maturity means over-development of certain organs and functions which should have lain dormant until the mind and body were sufficiently developed to handle the added responsibility. The girl who is forced into early maturity by the use of rich, highly concentrated foods, and by being forced in school and into society for which she is physically unprepared, is laying the foundation for all future troubles, both physical and mental.

Young women as well as young men whose moral training has been to avoid every act that convention would censure—never do anything that could be criticised by the most prudent—but who have been left to the ravages of lascivious imaginings, will suffer fuictional derangements and ill health. An impure mind although without an overt act is injurious to health. The laws of health are no respecters of person. They place the stamp of disapproval on the debauched mind as well as on the debauched bodies.

Nervousness—Who does not know what it is to be nervous? Everyone knows what nervousness means, yet few really know that nervous people are divided into two classes, namely: Those who have irritable nerves and those who have weak nerves.

The Neurasthenic individual is in most instances born, not made. Those who develop into real types of neurasthenics are those born of parents who failed to impart to them a stable nervous system. Look about you, you will have not difficulty in finding several girls of your acquaintance who have only a small store of nerve energy, and who are using this up as fast as they can. Is there no treatment for these unfortunates? There is. While it would be impossible to give them a new nervous system, the one they have can be strengthened and built up so as to give them many more years of useful life.

Diet without doubt has a marked effect upon the development of any individual. Rich, highly concentrated foods hasten maturity, induces precocity and do not furnish the system with the necessary elements to build a strong and well-balanced body. Coarse, heavy foods build a rugged, active body which reaches its zenith early and then subsides. A well known physician and writer says this:

"Farmers and their wives die early; here is an appalling waste of life in all branches of society, but nowhere like the country — due to overwork and improper eating—bread, potatoes, meat, pie, cake and preserves. Only in the summer, and for a short time only, do most farmers have green vegetables. The farmer knows the importance of grass for his stock, but his family can live on dry foods the year round. It is a well known fact that country people, who by all rights should be the healthiest people, show by far greater percentage of sickness than do the city people. Long hours, overwork, improper eating and poorly ventilated homes are the cause.

Home Training and home environments have their influences upon the life of the young girl and determine to a certain degree her physical and mental or moral make-up.

If the mothers of the next generation are to be strong, capable women, the father and mothers of this generation must do their part. The farmer does not overwork his fine brood mare, but some of them overwork the mothers of their children.

Health subjects which twenty years ago were unknown or, if known, were tabooed, are now being discussed publicly, through the press and from the pulpit—everywhere. The effect for good is remarkable, as manifested by better health, higher moral ideas and ideals, and greater efficiency and attainment.

CLUB NOTES.

Bathe, ——.

Dear Doctor—I am troubled with cold sores on my lips. Have tried camphor, but it does not help any. Would be grateful to you if you would tell me of some way to prevent them.

MRS. R. C.

Cold sores occur usually about the lips, though they may appear almost anywhere on the face. They are commonly caused by indigestions and fevers, but are also caused by local irritations of any sort, as from nasal discharge accompanying cold in the head, from which the name is derived. Picking and scratching are very harmful. Spirits of camphor, which you have tried, is considered a good remedy for it, and will help in most cases. Bathe the affected parts with starch and pulverized borax, or use distilled extract of witch hazel. Both are beneficial.

The stomach may be disordered and the bowels irregular, in which case Compound Gentian should be taken. Let the diet be light for a few days, and take frequent baths.

All readers of this publication are at liberty at all times to write for information pertaining to the subject of health. Address all communications to the Home Health Club, 5039 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, Ill., U. S. A., with name and address in full, and at least four cents in postage.

Saved By His Wife

She's a wise woman who knows just what to do when her husband's life is in danger, but Mrs. R. J. Flint, Braintree, Vt., is of that kind. "She insisted on my using Dr. King's New Discovery," writes Mr. F. "for a dreadful cough, when I was so weak my friends all thought I had only a short time to live, and it completely cured me. A quick cure for coughs and colds, it's the most safe and reliable medicine for many throat and lung troubles—grip, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, quinsy, tonsilitis, hemorrhages. A trial will convince you. 50 cents and $1. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

RIVERS AND HARBORS CONGRESS.

Will be Held in Washington in December—President Taft to Talk.

Washington, Oct. 19.—The coming National Convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress, which will be held in this city on December 4-6, gives promise of bringing together the largest number of delegates that ever attended a waterway congress. President Taft will open the convention with a notable address on the needs of waterway improvements and will be followed by a number of leading men of both the United States and Canada.

It is a subject for general congratulation, according to former Congressman J. Adam Bede, of Minnesota, that the several water and levee conventions held up to the present time have been more largely attended than at any time in the history of the associations. "To my mide the increased attendance of delegates and visitors to these waterway conferences has but one significance, an aroused public interest in the cause of waterway improvements and a determination to push the work of bettering our river transportation in order that the threatened freight congestion may be relieved in the future.

"Having attended three waterway conventions this year and having noticed the increased interest in the subject, I feel certain that there is a better feeling toward the waterways than ever existed before, and this among railroad men, too."

This view of Mr. Bede is emphasized by no less a person than President Finley, of the Southern Railway. When asked today about statements made at the recent Levee Convention at Memphis, which reported the railroads of the South as opposing the improvement of inland waterways and the maintenance of the levee system, Mr. Finley said: "So far as such statements have been applied to the attitude of the Southern Railway Company, they were based on a misunderstanding of the facts. As a representative of that company, which operates in a section of the country in which the importance of waterways can be increased, and dealing with the subject as practical and not as a theoretical matter, I have repeatedly stated our position to be that of favoring the improvement of inland waterways so far as they can be made economically efficient highways of commerce. I might say that, interested as we are in the development of the territory in the Mississippi Valley that is subject to overflow, it would be a very short-sighted policy on our part to oppose the maintenance of the levee system."

Christiana, which now has a population exceeding 244,400, is still the commercial center of Norway. Its chief items of export are wood pulp paper, matches and hides. Its merchant marine consists of 382 steamships, 6 motor ships and 59 sailing vessels.

Teddy says that he is not excited! Heavens! Let us hope he is telling the truth and that he will not get excited.

THE BEST PROOF

Wilmington Citizens Cannot Doubt It.

Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they cured.

The Story was told to Wilmington residents.

Time has strenthened the evidence.

Has proven the cure permanent.

The testimony is home testimony—

The proof is convincing.

It can be investigated by Wilmington residents.

J. F. Hansley, 406 Walnut St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "My back and kidneys troubled me a great deal and I think it was due to my being on my feet so much. I suffered from dull, dragging backaches and I could not stoop without having sharp twinges in my loins. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and there was sediment in them. Some time ago when I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box from Bellamy's Drug Store and in a few days after I began their use, my pains and aches disappeared. I have felt so much better in every way since using Doan's Kidney Pills that I have no hesitation in recommending them." (Statement given February 25, 1908.)

No Trouble Since.

On December 27, 1910, Mr. Hansley said: "I have had no occasion to use any kidney medicine since I took Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago and I am glad to say that they brought me lasting benefit. You are welcome to continue publishing my former statement."

A COAST-TO-COAST HIGHWAY

Construction of World's Greatest Road From New York to San Francisco—Taxicab Rates—Reform in Chinatown.

New York, Oct. 19.—The great stone road across the continent, which has been planned by automobile interests and the good roads advocates to give an all-the-year round highway from coast to coast, is beginning to assume definite form and from present indications will soon be an assured success.

Automobile manufacturers all over the country are putting up real money and the rest are being urgently invited to "come across" to the extent of one-third of one per cent. of their gross business for three years, which is the standard fixed for contributions. Such a tax levied on all the members of what has grown to be one of the Nation's greatest industries, ought to go a long way and it looks now with manufacturers paying gladly, as if the money raised during this three-year period would just about extend from the Atlantic coast to the Mississippi and lay down the big 12-foot pike behind it. One company has passed out $300,000 for the work in one donation. Indianapolis factories have pledged another $350,000 and Detroit, the automobile capital of the United States, has begun to respond on a generous scale. The route suggested is from New York southward through Washington to get good roads in Winter, then through Wheeling and Columbus to Indianapolis and on to St. Louis and the Mississippi. Then, if the money holds out, the great highway will strike for Kansas City and along the famous old Santa Fe trail through La Junta, Phoenix and San Diego to Los Angeles and then up the coast to San Francisco. They call it "The Trail to Sunset" in the Touring Club of America when they feel in a flowing and flowery mood and "The Big Pike" or the "Out Trail" when time is pressing. The Touring Club surveyed most of it in 1910 and its pathfinders say it is the best route that could be made.

Troubles are coming thick and fast for all those who live by the light of the Great White Way. First the waiters struck and demoralized the restaurant service of the "sky sign" region. When they had won their raise in pay their employers took it out of the public by piling a charge for bread and butter on top of their other Alpine prices, and now the taxicab people are attempting to devise a way to extort a few additional millions from the metropolitan public. An investigating committee which has been studying the taxicab situation, have discovered some curious facts. For one thing, they learned that the hotel and restaurant "graft", that is the charge made by the proprietors of these places for permitting the cabs to stand in front of them, amounts to the enormous sum of $500,000 a year. As a result the taxicab people say they are losing money and ought to have a chance to raise their fares, the head of one of the largest companies testifying that his concern had lost $100,000 in three years over $20,000 of which was represented by payments to hotels. On the other hand, the independent taxicab owners who have no restaurant tribute to pay, testified that they were making 40 per cent. profit at half the rates of their privileged competitors and that they could cut their rates easily and still make money. Since both sides to the argument drive in the same streets and the advantage in opportunity to catch fares is all in favor of the organization people, the investigators are wondering whether they have added some new memberships to the Ananias Club or have discovered a great unknown philanthropy on wheels. They incline to the opinion, however, that the heavy payments extorted by the hotel and restaurant men is one of the chief reasons for the high cab fares paid in New York.

While the visit of the greatest war fleet Uncle Sam has ever assembled was a pronounced success, there was a drop of woe in the Jackies' cup of joy in spite of the royal way in which they were entertained. For the tars discovered, what New Yorkers themselves did not know, that the glory had departed from the two features of the metropolis that are famous among all salt water sailors and they announced after a brief but thorough inspection that the Bowery was dead and that Chinatown had "gone dry." The lower Bowery and the little knot of crooked streets, almost within the shadow of the new 30-story Municipal building, where the Tongs have waged their bloody wars for 20 years, has always been a great haunt for sightseers. A year or two ago, after two frightful murders there, the place was cleaned out so effectively that the Chinese population shrank from nearly 12,000 to 1,200 in eight months. Only the saloons, the Chinese restaurants and a few "opium dens" maintained solely for the edification of credulous sightseers at 25 cents a look, were left. The first men from the fleet to obtain shore leave promptly cruised down to their old haunt and drifted into a bar. "Ginger ale?" said the barkeeper. That was not exactly it, the sailors thought. "Sarsaparilla?" That was worse. "Buttermilk" was the third offering and the Jackies made a swift escape. The sailors told their troubles to a reporter when they got back to their ship. There was an investigation and it was learned that all the Chinatown saloons had been closed by the State officers who had refused to renew their licenses.

An epidemic of "fox bites" in the heart of New York's East Side has stirred up a hot discussion here which is not yet settled. The trouble started when six boys and girls appeared at Bellevue Hospital about an hour after time for school to begin and solemnly bared six left arms for the surgeon to examine. The children's story was that three men—"dark fellers with rough caps"—had sprung upon them from around a corner, had dragged them into doorways and rubbed their bare arms with the rough caps till the blood started. The following day more than 20 cases of the same sort were reported, the children with red patches on their arms all telling the same story of the "dark fellers and the rough caps." All the children had the marks on the left arm, except one little fellow and when the doctor told him to write his name the youngster took the pencil in his left hand. That gave the hospital people their first clue and after some sharp questioning they declared that the "fox bites" were made by the children themselves, in hope of staying away from school. The "fox bite" epidemic has gone on spreading, however. More than 200 cases have come to the hospital and as the mothers of the children insist that the scars were not made by the youngsters, the police department has sent out detectives to hunt for the three mysterious "dark fellers."

The quiet old Clearing House, which keeps out of public notice more successfully than any institution of the same importance in the city, announced the other day that it had broken a record. The total amount of cash balances which were paid through it for the first week of October was $141,523,093, or the greatest sum in its long history. As that is only a small fraction of the total amount of checks which were settled there, it gives a hint of the vastness of the banking business at the present time. The explanation of the hugeness of the cash sum that changed hands is not only that all business is decidedly lively now, but also that October 1st was a "quarter day" when large amounts of dividends were paid, and some of the chief dividend payments were only partly completed. Now, however, the dividend payments are coming in to the banks in large sums. Financial authorities consider this fortunate as the money is badly needed to offset the withdrawals which have been made for harvesting and moving the big crops in the West, which have strained the money market harder than ever this year.

GREAT CORN EXPOSITION

Handsome Lithographs Announce Big Event In Columbia, S. C.

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 19.—Handsome art posters of unique design and skilful execution, printed in eight colors, will be posted conspicuously throughout the Southwest during the next few weeks, calling attention to the Fifth National Corn Exposition here next January and February. Railroads throughout the territory have offered their services in the distribution of these posters, and many thousands of them will be placed in this manner and by other agencies. The design selected was that submitted by Mr. Bristow Adams, a Washington artist. It is most effective work, bringing together in an unusually artistic manner corn, cotton and live stock—three things which contribute vastly to the agricultural prosperity of the Southeast, and which are handled by the exposition in its unique educational exhibits.

Exceptionally low round-trip rates to Columbia, on account of the exposition have been announced, and in addition to the educational facilities offered by it, this event will be characterized by a grand gathering together of people from all over the Southeast and other sections. Low rates will also be put on from Columbia in this State have taken advantage of this opportunity to announce a home-coming week in connection with the exposition.

Persons who desire copies of the poster can obtain them by applying to the exposition management at Columbia.

There's often much truth in the saying "her face is her fortune," but it's never said where pimples, skin eruptions, blotches, or other blemishes disfigure it. PROGRESS OF CAMPAIGN.

Looks Everywhere Bright for Democratic Success in November.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—The poll of the county chairmen, which acting chairman Joseph E. Davies, of the western headquarters of the National Democratic Committee, is making, continues to show an overwhelming sentiment everywhere in favor of Governor Wilson.

This poll is being conducted with strict regard for the facts. County chairmen have been instructed to tell conditions just as they are, whether they are favorable to Governor Wilson or not. The results, thus far, have been very gratifying as will appear from the following brief extracts selected at random:

George Wetzel, chairman of Perry County Democratic Committee, Roseville, Ohio: "Conditions in Perry county are fine. Wilson and Cox for Governor will carry it by five or six hundred."

T. F. Zeigler, chairman Democratic Committee of Allen county, Iola, Kansas: "Many claims and counter claims have been made respecting the outcome in Kansas, but if I can read the signs aright, Kansas will cast her electoral vote for Woodrow Wilson."

Jas. Johnson, Reno, Nevada: "The great Bull Mooser has come and gone. We are still for Gov. Wilson. If all the doubtful States are as safe for Gov. Wilson as Nevada, his election is now assured."

Henry Hawson, Fresno, Cal.: "We have the work in this county in good shape, never better, I think, and you may safely trust the committee to do all that is necessary. . . . . Generally, the campaign is on a splendid basis."

Victor P. Moses, judge of the County Court, and State committeeman, Corvallis, Oregon: "Indications are that while this county is Republican by 700 out of 2,500 votes, Wilson and Marshall will carry it by 300 or more. Roosevelt is a dead issue in this county. LaFollette was strong and most of his following is going to Wilson."

Ross Granger, chairman Washtenaw Democratic county committee, Ann Arbor, Michigan: "I am sure we can carry Michigan if proper work is done all over the State. Washtenaw will certainly do her share and we will want all the good speakers that come into the State to touch here.

"Wilson should be very strong in this city, especially on account of the University of Michigan, and the county will give him and Mr. Ferris (Democratic candidate for Governor) a good majority notwithstanding the fact that the majority for President and Governor has been large for Republicans in the past."

H. A. Cooke, Member of State Central Committee, Eagle Grove, Iowa:

"Conditions in this district never looked brighter for Democratic success than they do this year. We expect to elect a Congressman, possibly five out of nine members of the Legislature, and in this county, which has never gone Democratic for President, I think Mr. Wilson will have a good, safe majority. The Bull Moose has quite a large following and will divide the Republicans about evenly with Mr. Taft. Unless something unforeseen happens, I expect Mr. Wilson to carry the State by a good, safe majority."

And, by the same token, will it surprise you if the same Perkins should be appointed secretary of the treasury? By the way, what an efficient little secretary of commerce and labor Perkins. Gee! Think of the possibilities of that office for the "brains of the Steel Trust promotion!"

THE MODERN NEWSPAPER.

(Editorial Charlotte Observer.)

The conditions surrounding the production of the modern newspaper are very different from what they were a few years ago. There was a period in which many newspapers were sensational, more or less indecent, more or less disregardful of the truth, and, generally speaking, very undesirable. Within a very few years a very material change has come to these conditions. Formerly, many newspapers let themselves loose to one partisan side in politics, or to some new cause or movement. Now, the tendency is towards newspapers sticking to the newspaper business, and furnishing the news of political conventions, and accurate news at that. Also the same as to different "causes". It is no business of a newspaper to advocate a new and strange cause, but to report the news concerning its progress, and let the reading public judge for itself of the merits. It is particularly true that the public does not want to hear biased and untruthful stories of the progress of one side of a political campaign. The people want to read a paper in which a fair judgment is expressed of the exact political situation. They do not wish to read in a paper that everything is going one way, only to find out after election that everything went the other way. The excitable reporter given to writing up sensations and to magnifying trivial events into evidence of impending consequences is no longer desired on the average American newspaper.

The change in the character of the newspaper is all for the better. There grew a great objection to the colored supplement at one time. Concerted action amongst many newspapers, in looking for the cause of this, found that many colored supplements were more or less indecent, and there has been a concerted movement to clean up the colored supplement and make it all right, which it generally is nowadays. Throat-splitting partisanship of any kind written up and turned in by a newspaper reporter is now usually thrown into the wastebasket. More regard is now paid to moral causes and Christian movements than ever before, and it is found that a newspaper may lose none of its force by doing this.

It is not meant to suggest here that the average good newspaper does or should give less news. On the contrary, it makes way for more and better news. Abundant space formerly taken up with box-car headlines over nothing of consequence may be used for printing and distributing the actual news, and in about the quantities that people want to read.

SEVERE STORM ON GULF

Wind Reaches Velocity of 60 Miles On Texas Coast

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 16.—Reports reached here today of a severe storm on the Texas coast between Corpus Christi and Brownsville, a stretch of about 150 miles.

The wind at Brownsville was reported at 60 miles an hour and at 48 at Corpus Christi, though neither of these reports were confirmed. The storm at noon seemed to be working straight inland. The coast line affected is sparsely settled.

When the smoke of the battle has blown away and inauguration day comes, don't you think that Perkins will be well up in the front of the parade, if Teddy is elected?

CAROLINA HEIGHTS EXTENSION

IN the past several years quite a bit of the more desirable property contigious to Wilmington has been subdivided into residence lots and developed into most attractive suburbs—additions that any city would be proud to claim. But of them all, CAROLINA HEIGHTS is in a class distinctively its own; the one pre-eminently successful. One cannot find more beautiful homes in Wilmington (or in the South) than those in Wilmington's premier suburb. It is the location par-excellence for the man who really loves a beautiful home. Realizing the insistent demand for more property of this class, we have secured and are offering the public that beautiful block adjoining Carolina Heights on the west end, bounded by Chestnut, Grace, 16th and 17th streets. We have divided the block into 11 beautiful lots and will offer them for sale on

Monday, Oct. 21st, 1912

Remember the limited number of these lots and see us early. The inquiries received justify us in prophesying that not one of these lots will be left in a week's time. This property has Macadamized Streets, Granolithic Sidewalks, Shade trees,

Sewerage, Water, Electric Lights, Gas, Car Service

In short, it is what its name implies—an extension of Carolina Heights. Every lot high and graded to a beautiful level.

We have put cash prices on these lots, but for the convenience of those who do not desire to pay all cash at once, we can arrange for the payment of one-fourth cash, and balance in 4, 8 and 12 months, with interest at 5% on deferred payments.
